

Hope Star

WEATHER
Arkansas—Cloudy, probably occasional rains Tuesday night and Wednesday; cooler in northwest portion Wednesday.

VOLUME 36—NUMBER 82

(AP)—Means Associated Press.
(NIA)—Means Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.

HOPE, ARKANSAS, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1934

Star of Hope 1829; Press, 1927;
Consolidated January 18, 1928.

PRICE 5c COPY

U. S. TO HIT POWER COMBINE

Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

COTTON farmers next month will vote on whether or not to continue the Bankhead compulsory control law. Senator Bankhead, author of the law, remarks if the South overthrow it at this time it would probably be a frosty winter before congress could again be persuaded to come to cotton's relief.

Bobcats Drilling for Little Rock Contest Saturday

Tigers Never Have Crossed Goal of a Hammons-Coached Team

ODDS FOR VISITORS

Little Rock Has Speed, Deception and Power, Says Mentor

Facing their hardest battle of the season, the Hope High School football team is preparing to meet Little Rock High School on the local field next Saturday afternoon.

A victory for the Bobcats would place them up near Pine Bluff as one of the state's outstanding high school teams.

Besides an attempt to win laurels for themselves, the school and the city, the Bobcats will fight to defend the record established by their coach against Little Rock grid team.

Hammons vs. Little Rock

That record is:

No Little Rock team has ever crossed the goal line of a team coached by Fay Hammons.

However, a Little Rock squad beat the veteran mentor 1-0. That was back 11 years ago when a lineman named Marvin Johnson was called back to boot a field goal.

The scene was the annual Little Rock-Pine Bluff classic. The game ended 3 to 0 in favor of Little Rock.

Asked what chances the Bobcats had for a victory over their opponents Saturday, the coach said:

"By playing 30 per cent better football we can beat them. The Tigers are big. They have speed, deception and power."

The Little Rock-Hope game will see several of the Bobcats playing their last home game of their careers, including the team's outstanding backs, Payne and Madison.

1:30 p. m. Saturday
Numerous inquiries have reached school authorities as to why the game will be played at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Several reasons were given:

First: Hope asked for a game with Little Rock, the date and time to be set by Little Rock school authorities. Coach Earl Quigley set Saturday afternoon, November 24. Hope agreed to that date and the game was scheduled.

Second: Efforts to change the date have failed because Superintendent Hall of Little Rock High School has refused to allow the team to miss additional classes in order to come here.

Third: Coach Quigley does not like the idea of playing his high school athletes at night, especially in the late fall, because of chilly weather.

Bankhead Violation Is Probed Locally

AAA Inspectors Make Clean Sweep of Ginners' Records

LITTLE ROCK—Violations of Bankhead act regulations governing transfer of surplus tax exempt certificates are as widespread in southwest Arkansas as in the northeastern counties visited by representatives of the AAA Cotton Section last week, E. D. White, chairman of the state Cotton Allotment Board, said Monday.

Mr. White is working with L. H. Gunter, assistant manager of the cotton pool, in the investigation of transfer regulations throughout the state.

Auditors from the Cotton Section are checking records of ginners and producers in Miller, Little River and Dallas counties as a result of recent investigations made there and records in Greene, Clay, Crittenden and other northeast Arkansas counties are also under inspection.

Similar investigations will be made in all cotton-producing counties where violations have been reported. Mr. White said. Surplus tax exemption certificates can be legally transferred only through the county assistant in cotton adjustment or by turning them in to the national pool for reissuance.

One ginner in Dallas county was astonished Saturday morning at the rapid progress of the investigation, Mr. White said. While reading newspaper account of reported law violations in connection with the transfer of surplus tax exemption certificates, he looked up to see two representatives of the Cotton Section standing in the door of his office.

2 1/2 Inches of Rain Rakes Hempstead Up to 11 Tuesday

Deluge Is First Since 1.6-Inch Rain Last of September

DOWNPOUR GENERAL

Additional Rain Forecast for Tuesday Night and Wednesday

A general rain fell Monday night over Hempstead county, bringing relief from prolonged drought conditions. Total precipitation from 6 p. m. Monday to 11 a. m. Tuesday was 2.6 inches, the Fruit and Truck Branch Experiment station reported.

The rainfall was seen as a great benefit to late fall crops. It was the first rain of any consequence since the latter part of September when 1.6 inches was recorded.

Light showers fell over parts of Hempstead county Sunday and Monday, but reports indicated for the most part that the showers were too light to be of any great benefit.

However, with the aid of the downpour Monday night, the total rainfall over the week-end served to bring new life to pastures and fall crops.

Additional rains are forecast by the Weather Man for Tuesday night and Wednesday, according to the Associated Press Tuesday noon.

Richberg Pledges Against Inflation

Sorriest Recovery Remedy Would Be Another Orgy of Speculation

ATLANTA, Ga.—(AP)—Industrial leaders of the nation were assured Monday night by Donald Richberg, Recovery chief, that there would be "no orgy of inflation," and warned that private enterprise must find jobs for four or five million workers.

"It would be suicidal folly," Richberg said, "to abandon present mechanisms of co-operation and let nature take its course." He reviewed "co-operative efforts"—such as NRA and AAA—and said:

"We must continue them, and we must improve them. There is no patent medicine that will cure our economic ills. But of all the quick remedies the worst that is offered to this nation in the cold gray dawn of recovery from the intoxicated follies of 1929 is to get drunk again in another orgy of inflation."

Insisting that "business must do the job," Richberg said a review of "co-operative efforts" would show that "the ground is now prepared for a great advance by private industry and trade."

"Then, just as rapidly as private enterprise reduces the load of unemployment," he promised, "we can achieve steady reductions in the volume of governmental activities and expenditures."

"We must bring about the re-employment of four to five million workers in the near future, either through a great expansion of private enterprise or through future government activities."

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

Europe Wrangles Over Arms; Japan Defies All Navies

America Proposes International Arms Licensing Authority

FRANCE HIKES ANTE

Steps Up Army to Meet Germans—Japan to Break Naval Treaty

By the Associated Press

Civilized warfare and mankind's right to fight as he pleases, were commented and acted upon by most of the world's powerful nations Tuesday.

The United States proposed at Geneva that the manufacture and sale of arms be licensed by an international commission which would make public just who is arming for war, and to what extent.

Austria demanded of the disarmament conference that she be given the right to build up her fighting power, while King George opened the session of the League of Nations with a plea for peace and the success of the disarmament conference.

France increased her military appropriations following a report that Germany could place a large army in the field within a year.

The preliminary naval conversations at London appeared deadlocked.

Japan Defies Powers

LONDON—(AP)—Ambassador Tsubo Matsudaira of Japan Monday night told Britain's foreign secretary that unless the British and Americans grant Japan full equality in a full naval limitation treaty, Japan will assume that status without a treaty.

One of Japan's leading diplomats, Matsudaira gave to Sir John Simon, the Japanese reply to the recent British compromise naval suggestions, reflecting them because they recognized only equality in principle.

The Japanese reply puts the situation up to the other two powers again and renews the deadlock which has crippled the conversations since Japan first submitted her demands.

Matsudaira urged the British to consider new ways of meeting the Japanese request for full equality. The British interpreted this as meaning there still was a possibility the Japanese might compromise.

British quarters said the Japanese have made some modifications of their original proposals for a new treaty, but the Japanese said they were willing to compromise only on technical questions, not principles.

Matsudaira told Sir John there can be no compromise on national prestige for Japan. He said the other powers must give Japan actual tonnage equality, although Japan was willing to make a declaration she would not build to that equality for a certain number of years.

Sir John planned to consult with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and the cabinet, informing the Americans of his moves, before the British and Japanese meet again.

The Japanese have indicated that the Washington treaty will be denounced before the end of this year, effective in December, 1936.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Now they have decided to sound out the two powers on possible joint action in denouncing the treaty, but it was understood the British and Americans oppose this.

The London treaty ends this year. It is complementary to the Washington treaty which would continue indefinitely unless denounced.

Roosevelt May Wed a duPont

SCION OF THE NEW DEAL... AND PRINCESS OF DELAWARE

Bitter Years Are at End—Wallace

Secretary Declares Agriculture Now Will Expand Moderately

HARTFORD, Conn.—(AP)—Secretary Wallace defined the future course of agricultural adjustment Tuesday as one of controlled expansion rather than reduction.

Speaking before the National Grange he declared that to permit controlled expansion and to permit agriculture profitably to produce enough to tide the country over through years ought to be "our objective."

Explaining that he was protecting Miss duPont, then a student at a fashionable boarding school, from the inevitable publicity that follows the son of a famous father. More recently another hint of the romance crashed the front pages when it was discovered that the President's son had purchased a roadster in Wilmington, giving fashionable Owens Nest Road, in Wilmington—the duPont estate—its address. It developed, however, that young Roosevelt gave that address for delivery while on one of his frequent week-end visits to the duPont home.

Since the presentation of Miss duPont to society early this season the school-day romance has assumed evident importance. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., now a sophomore at Harvard, has been entertained extensively at the debutante's home, both in Wilmington and at the duPont summer home at North Harbor, Md. On several occasions he has been the guest of the duPonts in New York City.

Boston society watched the romance at close range at the recent debut of Miss Barbara Cushing, sister of the wife of James Roosevelt. Miss duPont was a guest at the affair and three sons of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, James, Franklin D., Jr., and John Roosevelt, were ushers. Philadelphia lifted an eyebrow of attention when Miss duPont was a member of the wedding party at the debut of the younger sister of Mrs. Doree Roosevelt, former wife of Elliott Roosevelt.

Rumors Denied
Rumors of the engagement of the young couple have been emphatically denied by Eugene duPont, father of the debutante. So emphatic have these denials become that speculation gossip, though recalling the fact that Eugene duPont and the President were classmates at Harvard, predicts that the romance will hit a snag of no small import.

Miss Ethel duPont is one of the duPont cousins known as the Princesses of Delaware, and heiress to the vast fortune of the potent duPont de Nemours Company, which has been in the hands of one family for more than a hundred years. The success of that company and the power of the duPont family, known as the "Royal Family of Delaware," lies not only in its wealth, but in a clanish cooperation, the concentration of the wealth and power of every member of the clan, toward the general welfare of the name of duPont, to which the great company stands as a monument.

The marriages of the women of the duPont family have played an important part in the history of the United States.

It was learned from a reliable source that no indictments were returned because the identity of the attackers could not be learned.

Commenting editorially on the assault, the Helena World charged that "every phase of the assault indicates that the assailants were intent on 'taking the alderman for a ride'—getting him out of the city and county before the latest romance in the Roosevelt family.

This time attention is focused on Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., next eligible son of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and Miss Ethel duPont, heiress-debutante of Wilmington, Del.

The romance came to public attention last season when the scion of the New Deal exponent stole the show at a Philadelphia boxing match by attacking a newspaper photographer who attempted to snap his picture.

Protecting Girl
Explanations disclosed that he was protecting Miss duPont, then a student at a fashionable boarding school, from the inevitable publicity that follows the son of a famous father. More recently another hint of the romance crashed the front pages when it was discovered that the President's son had purchased a roadster in Wilmington, giving fashionable Owens Nest Road, in Wilmington—the duPont estate—its address. It developed, however, that young Roosevelt gave that address for delivery while on one of his frequent week-end visits to the duPont home.

Since the presentation of Miss duPont to society early this season the school-day romance has assumed evident importance. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., now a sophomore at Harvard, has been entertained extensively at the debutante's home, both in Wilmington and at the duPont summer home at North Harbor, Md. On several occasions he has been the guest of the duPonts in New York City.

Boston society watched the romance at close range at the recent debut of Miss Barbara Cushing, sister of the wife of James Roosevelt. Miss duPont was a guest at the affair and three sons of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, James, Franklin D., Jr., and John Roosevelt, were ushers. Philadelphia lifted an eyebrow of attention when Miss duPont was a member of the wedding party at the debut of the younger sister of Mrs. Doree Roosevelt, former wife of Elliott Roosevelt.

Rumors Denied
Rumors of the engagement of the young couple have been emphatically denied by Eugene duPont, father of the debutante. So emphatic have these denials become that speculation gossip, though recalling the fact that Eugene duPont and the President were classmates at Harvard, predicts that the romance will hit a snag of no small import.

Miss Ethel duPont is one of the duPont cousins known as the Princesses of Delaware, and heiress to the vast fortune of the potent duPont de Nemours Company, which has been in the hands of one family for more than a hundred years. The success of that company and the power of the duPont family, known as the "Royal Family of Delaware," lies not only in its wealth, but in a clanish cooperation, the concentration of the wealth and power of every member of the clan, toward the general welfare of the name of duPont, to which the great company stands as a monument.

The marriages of the women of the duPont family have played an important part in the history of the United States.

It was learned from a reliable source that no indictments were returned because the identity of the attackers could not be learned.

Commenting editorially on the assault, the Helena World charged that "every phase of the assault indicates that the assailants were intent on 'taking the alderman for a ride'—getting him out of the city and county before

Society's Eyes on Young Frank as He Visits in Delaware Home

But the duPont Family, Opponents of New Deal, Are Reported in Opposition

WILMINGTON, Del.—(NEA)—Eastern society is watching with interest the latest romance in the Roosevelt family.

This time attention is focused on Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., next eligible son of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and Miss Ethel duPont, heiress-debutante of Wilmington, Del.

The romance came to public attention last season when the scion of the New Deal exponent stole the show at a Philadelphia boxing match by attacking a newspaper photographer who attempted to snap his picture.

Protecting Girl
Explanations disclosed that he was protecting Miss duPont, then a student at a fashionable boarding school, from the inevitable publicity that follows the son of a famous father. More recently another hint of the romance crashed the front pages when it was discovered that the President's son had purchased a roadster in Wilmington, giving fashionable Owens Nest Road, in Wilmington—the duPont estate—its address. It developed, however, that young Roosevelt gave that address for delivery while on one of his frequent week-end visits to the duPont home.

Since the presentation of Miss duPont to society early this season the school-day romance has assumed evident importance. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., now a sophomore at Harvard, has been entertained extensively at the debutante's home, both in Wilmington and at the duPont summer home at North Harbor, Md. On several occasions he has been the guest of the duPonts in New York City.

Boston society watched the romance at close range at the recent debut of Miss Barbara Cushing, sister of the wife of James Roosevelt. Miss duPont was a guest at the affair and three sons of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, James, Franklin D., Jr., and John Roosevelt, were ushers. Philadelphia lifted an eyebrow of attention when Miss duPont was a member of the wedding party at the debut of the younger sister of Mrs. Doree Roosevelt, former wife of Elliott Roosevelt.

Rumors Denied
Rumors of the engagement of the young couple have been emphatically denied by Eugene duPont, father of the debutante. So emphatic have these denials become that speculation gossip, though recalling the fact that Eugene duPont and the President were classmates at Harvard, predicts that the romance will hit a snag of no small import.

Miss Ethel duPont is one of the duPont cousins known as the Princesses of Delaware, and heiress to the vast fortune of the potent duPont de Nemours Company, which has been in the hands of one family for more than a hundred years. The success of that company and the power of the duPont family, known as the "Royal Family of Delaware," lies not only in its wealth, but in a clanish cooperation, the concentration of the wealth and power of every member of the clan, toward the general welfare of the name of duPont, to which the great company stands as a monument.

The marriages of the women of the duPont family have played an important part in the history of the United States.

It was learned from a reliable source that no indictments were returned because the identity of the attackers could not be learned.

Commenting editorially on the assault, the Helena World charged that "every phase of the assault indicates that the assailants were intent on 'taking the alderman for a ride'—getting him out of the city and county before the latest romance in the Roosevelt family.

This time attention is focused on Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., next eligible son of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, and Miss Ethel duPont, heiress-debutante of Wilmington, Del.

The romance came to public attention last season when the scion of the New Deal exponent stole the show at a Philadelphia boxing match by attacking a newspaper photographer who attempted to snap his picture.

Protecting Girl
Explanations disclosed that he was protecting Miss duPont, then a student at a fashionable boarding school, from the inevitable publicity that follows the son of a famous father. More recently another hint of the romance crashed the front pages when it was discovered that the President's son had purchased a roadster in Wilmington, giving fashionable Owens Nest Road, in Wilmington—the duPont estate—its address. It developed, however, that young Roosevelt gave that address for delivery while on one of his frequent week-end visits to the duPont home.

Since the presentation of Miss duPont to society early this season the school-day romance has assumed evident importance. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., now a sophomore at Harvard, has been entertained extensively at the debutante's home, both in Wilmington and at the duPont summer home at North Harbor, Md. On several occasions he has been the guest of the duPonts in New York City.

Boston society watched the romance at close range at the recent debut of Miss Barbara Cushing, sister of the wife of James Roosevelt. Miss duPont was a guest at the affair and three sons of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, James, Franklin D., Jr., and John Roosevelt, were ushers. Philadelphia lifted an eyebrow of attention when Miss duPont was a member of the wedding party at the debut of the younger sister of Mrs. Doree Roosevelt, former wife of Elliott Roosevelt.

Rumors Denied
Rumors of the engagement of the young couple have been emphatically denied by Eugene duPont, father of the debutante. So emphatic have these denials become that speculation gossip, though recalling the fact that Eugene duPont and the President were classmates at Harvard, predicts that the romance will hit a snag of no small import.

Miss Ethel duPont is one of the duPont cousins known as the Princesses of Delaware, and heiress to the vast fortune of the potent duPont de Nemours Company, which has been in the hands of one family for more than a hundred years. The success of that company and the power of the duPont family, known as the "Royal Family of Delaware," lies not only in its wealth, but in a clanish cooperation, the concentration of the wealth and power of every member of the clan, toward the general welfare of the name of duPont, to which the great company stands as a monument.

The marriages of the women of the duPont family have played an important part in the history of the United States.

It was learned from a reliable source that no indictments were returned because the identity of the attackers could not be learned.

Commenting editorially on the assault, the Helena World charged that "every phase of the assault indicates that the assailants were intent on 'taking the alderman for a ride'—getting him out of the city and county before

Commission Will Recommend Single Holding Company

Would Limit One to Each Group of Operating Concerns

3 REFORMS SOUGHT

Would Forbid Interlocking—and Divorce Gas and Electricity

Copyright Associated Press

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An authoritative source disclosed Tuesday the laws to limit the stature and might of giant holding companies in the power business probably will be recommended to President Roosevelt by his power experts.

Regulation of holding companies, an objective of the National Power Commission, appointed by the president to recommend a power policy, is not yet been disclosed, the committee is authoritatively reported by thinking along the following lines:

1. No more than one holding company should be superimposed on a group of operating companies.

2. Power resources that one holding company may control should be limited.

3. Natural gas and electric companies should be divorced.

Although the president's attitude has not yet been disclosed, the committee is authoritatively reported by thinking along the following lines:

1. No more than one holding company should be superimposed on a group of operating companies.

2. Power resources that one holding company may control should be limited.

3. Natural gas and electric companies should be divorced.

Although the president's attitude has not yet been disclosed, the committee is authoritatively reported by thinking along the following lines:

1. No more than one holding company should be superimposed on a group of operating companies.

2. Power resources that one holding company may control should be limited.

3. Natural gas and electric companies should be divorced.

Although the president's attitude has not yet been disclosed, the committee is authoritatively reported by thinking along the following lines:

1. No more than one holding company should be superimposed on a group of operating companies.

2. Power resources that one holding company may control should be limited.

3. Natural gas and electric companies should be divorced.

Although the president's attitude has not yet been disclosed, the committee is authoritatively reported by thinking along the following lines:

1. No more than one holding company should be superimposed on a group of operating companies.

2. Power resources that one holding company may control should be limited.

3. Natural gas and electric companies should be divorced.

Although the president's attitude has not yet been disclosed, the committee is authoritatively reported by thinking along the following lines:

1. No more than one holding company should be superimposed on a group of operating companies.

2. Power resources that one holding company may control should be limited.

3. Natural gas and electric companies should be divorced.

Although the president's attitude has not yet been disclosed, the committee is authoritatively reported by thinking along the following lines:

1. No more than one holding company should be superimposed on a group of operating companies.

2. Power resources that one holding company may control should be limited.

3. Natural gas and electric companies should be divorced.

Although the president's attitude has not yet been disclosed, the committee is authoritatively reported by thinking along the following lines:

1. No more than one holding company should be superimposed on a group of operating companies.

2. Power resources that one holding company may control should be limited.

3. Natural gas and electric companies should be divorced.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Hope Star

Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by Star Publishing Co., Inc.
C. E. Palmer & Alex. H. Washburn, at The Star building, 212-214 South Walnut street, Hope, Arkansas.

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher
Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Hope, Arkansas
Under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Definition: "The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, through widely circulated advertisements, and to furnish that which upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."—Col. R. H. McCormick.

Subscription Rate (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week 10c; six months $2.75; one year $5.00. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $5.00.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

National Advertising Representatives: Arkansas Dailies, Inc., Memphis, Tenn., Statelike Bldg., New York City, Graybar Bldg., Chicago, Ill., 75 E. Wacker Drive; Detroit, Mich., 7338 Woodward Ave.; St. Louis, Mo., Star Bldg.

Charges on Tributes, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-filling memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

Says Insurance Spoils Doctor-Patient Link

This is the second of three articles by Dr. Fishbein giving the medical profession's viewpoint on the question of sickness insurance.

Even those who are most eager to have some kind of sickness insurance in this country freely admit that none of the systems in use abroad would do here. One reason is that Americans like to choose their own doctors. Many systems of sickness insurance in foreign countries do not permit a man to choose the doctor he wants. After all, the link between doctor and patient is one of the most intimate of human relationships.

One reason why American doctors have been opposing state control over medicine is the likelihood that it will interfere with this personal relationship.

American doctors are proud of the service they have been giving to the American people. Our sickness and death rates are about as low as, if not lower than, those of most of the large countries of the world. An investigation recently made by the Bureau of Economics of the American Medical Association revealed that there are few, if any, people in the United States really suffering from lack of medical care.

Another reason why American doctors are opposed to sickness insurance is the fact that the quality of medical care rendered under such systems in foreign countries is far below the average care given in this country.

In most of these systems a doctor gets a list of about 1000 to 1500 persons whom he is supposed to look after. He gets so much a person each year. In addition, in many countries, he carries on his private practice.

Now, doctors are only human! By the very nature of the circumstances, there is a tendency to give less attention to those who come under the insurance system than to those who are directly responsible to the doctor for payment.

The Germans say that insurance service is second class, that the leading doctors will not do this kind of practice. For this reason it is frequently found that even patients who are on sickness insurance lists will go to an outside doctor and pay his fee when they think anything is seriously wrong with them.

The tying up of sickness insurance with unemployment insurance in some countries has multiplied the evils tremendously. It has caused patients to come to their doctors repeatedly for minor illnesses just to get their unemployment benefits.

Thus it is found that there is much more sickness among persons who are insured than among those who are not insured. Actually, there is likely no more sickness than there was before.

Those who promote sickness insurance in this country insist that there is an advantage in having the patient see the doctor often, because then the doctor may find disease in its earliest stages.

Of course, many doctors who practice under the insurance systems take their work conscientiously and try to satisfy their patients. But, if the people who favor sickness insurance could produce figures to show that the insurance doctors have detected a great many more cases of Bright's disease, tuberculosis or cancer than are detected by doctors in this country, their argument would be better.

On the other hand, the offices of insurance doctors are so crowded with people who have numerous minor illnesses that the doctors lack the time necessary to find the diseases of serious nature in their early stages.

A BOOK A DAY

By BRUCE CATTION
Examines Mysteries of Ancient America—This Book Tells Story of Indians Before Columbus

In "The Story of the American Indian," Paul Radin performs an intensely interesting bit of detective work. His aim to trace the strange, unifying threads which can be found in all the different tribes of early America; to unravel the bazaar of the mound builders, the Aztecs, the Mayas and the Incas, and to get an intelligible picture of American history before Columbus.

The result is a truly fascinating book, if you have any feeling at all for historical mysteries.

Mr. Radin suggests that cultural influences from Mexico and Central America reached much farther than we usually suppose. The mound builders of the Ohio and Mississippi valleys, he believes, were colonists from the Mayan empire; the pre-Inca civilization in Peru unquestionably had contact with the Mayas; and the myths and legends of savage tribes such as the Iroquois and Dakotas show traces of Mayan culture.

His most interesting chapters, naturally, are those which directly examine the amazing civilizations which flourished in North and South America back in the days before the Romans had conquered Gaul. Slowly our knowledge of that far-off and picturesque time is broadening; Mr. Radin summarizes it very well, and shows that these civilizations were by no means isolated, but served as cultural centers which sent their tentacles out for thousands of miles.

If one of the most romantic and shadowy chapters in human history interests you, you'll like this book. Published by Liveright, it sells for $2.50.

YOUR CHILDREN

By Olive Roberts Barton

Spank Shock—Unexpected Punishment of Spoiled Child Often Does Great Harm

"Albert, this is your third suit today. If you get it dirty I'll smack you." So Albert went over to Billy's house, got chocolate all over himself and came home to be spanked.

But he wasn't. He was spanked, put to bed and kept there. He was outraged, hurt, furious. He screamed and kicked, bit and stamped. What business had his mother betraying him? Hadn't she always threatened? Hadn't he a right to get away with it this time when he always had before?

He brooded. He wouldn't eat any supper. Cried himself to sleep. Not being able to stand his sobs and his anger, his mother tried to patch things up.

She even offered to let him go down and see Daddy. But no sir! The injured became the despot. Albert retaliated by refusing advances. He knew she felt badly. So he enjoyed his revenge. He sobbed harder than ever and finally the Sand Man put an end to his dramatics.

Grudging Obedience Next day "hizzoner" was more careful of the mud, the paste, the jelly and the egg. He was old enough to use his hands a bit carefully anyway. His mother did not expect perfection in this six-year-old, but she knew that four-fifths of the damage was due to laziness and carelessness and even willfulness.

From that day on Albert was more careful, but from that day on he nursed a grudge.

He began to sulk about any little reprimand. Likewise he annoyed his mother whenever he could. He was turning into a bad little boy very fast.

She worried. "That's what comes of punishment. It only makes them worse. Bertie doesn't trust me. He doesn't even like me. He's just getting even."

Punishment Came as Surprise In a way she was right. Albert had had a shock. His easy angel had suddenly turned mentor and judge. He could not reconcile the two in one person. He felt betrayed because it was all so unexpected and so new.

This is the great danger where parents threaten and never act. Threats are wrong and useless, of course, but the danger is the same where parents allow authority to atrophy and fool the children into thinking they will stand for anything at all times.

One fine day mothers come to a showdown. The parent has to discipline and the child can't stand for it. It is not fair to any one concerned—this waiting for a crisis to let them know who is boss.

The best way is to instill in every child the idea that authority, a kindly and sympathetic authority though it be, is there and is to be respected. Then when brought into open play, as must happen at times, he will not resent it or brood. True, it should not be so apparent as to disrupt confidence, but the feeling of a certain responsibility to it is good for a child.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By Alicia Hart

Regular Care Insures Every Ready Beauty

In addition to keeping her evening clothes clean, pressed and ready to wear at a moment's notice, the busy woman who goes to parties has to do various beauty routines regularly. If she leaves everything until the day of the ball, she'll arrive not only tired, but rather haphazardly groomed.

For instance, every girl should go to the hairdresser for a shampoo and wave at regular intervals. If Friday is the day you have a bit of free time, then visit your beauty shop every Friday. If your hair is in fair condition and the operator is a good one, you'll look fine at all times. Then, when an unexpected invitation comes your way, you won't have to figure out a way to dash to the beauty shop before you can accept.

The same applies to the nails. Manicure them yourself or have it done by a professional. But be sure to do it on the same day every week.

Use a depilatory once a week. A deodorant twice. Remember that most deodorants are not to be used within 24 hours after shaving or using a depilatory.

You can care for your skin in the same efficient manner. Using a bath brush on back, shoulders and arms each time you bathe is far better than giving them a frenzied, hurried scrubbing just before putting on a dinner gown.

Apply body oil or lotion after each bath. It may be a bother but, in the long run, it's easier than trying to soften arms and elbows with tissue cream while your escort nervously waits for you.

Keep liquid powder on hand. It is perfect makeup for your back and it won't rub off on the sleeve of your partner's dinner coat.

Put on perfume at least a half hour before you're ready to leave. That way, you'll be subtly fragrant, but you won't leave a heavy trail of scent behind you.

NEXT: A modern manicure.

For a copy of Alicia Hart's new booklet, "Glorifying Yourself," covering all phases of beauty from head to foot, send 10 cents in coin to Alicia Hart in care of Hope Star Special Service Bureau, Room 305, 461 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Tokio

L. S. Sanford was a business visitor to Bingen Tuesday.

W. T. and Ruel Cooley were in Bingen Tuesday on business.

Marney Smith of Nashville was a Tokio visitor Monday.

Joe and Jim Cooley of Highland visited Mr. and Mrs. Bon Cooley Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Steuart and children were shopping in Nashville Saturday.

Miss Georgia Steuart was shopping in Nashville Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie McLarty visited Mr. and Mrs. George Tommy at Nashville Friday and Saturday.

A. M. McLarty was a business visitor to Washington Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Hutson and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Hutson at Doyle Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Compton and children of Doyle visited relatives here Saturday night and Sunday.

Elden Cooley of Hot Springs spent Sunday with his parents.

Troy Cooley of Weaver, Texas, is home for a brief visit to relatives and friends.

A. C. McHughes and Noah Oldner were business visitors to Nashville Friday.

A. C. Holt was a business visitor to Nashville Wednesday.

J. S. Harris made a business trip to Nashville Saturday.

Guy Steuart of Murfreesboro was a Tokio visitor Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Steuart and children returned home Saturday from Murfreesboro where they visited relatives.

Joe Gosnell of Bingen visited relatives here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Forney H. McLarty of Mineral Springs visited relatives here Sunday.

J. S. Harris was a murfreesboro visitor Sunday.

Mrs. J. K. McLarty and little son of Nashville spent the latter part of last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wood.

Several through these parts have killed some nice hogs and are wishing it would get cooler.

Ozan

Mrs. W. F. Robins and Mrs. J. K. Gren were shopping in Hope Friday.

Rev. Young of Ouachita college preached two interesting sermons at the Baptist church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and 7:30 p. m. Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Smith of Nashville were the guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Smith, Sunday.

The Baptist W. M. U. met with Mrs. J. T. Sneed Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. K. Green left Sunday for a visit to her brother, Bill Milam and Mrs. Milam in Houston, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith were shopping in Hope Saturday.

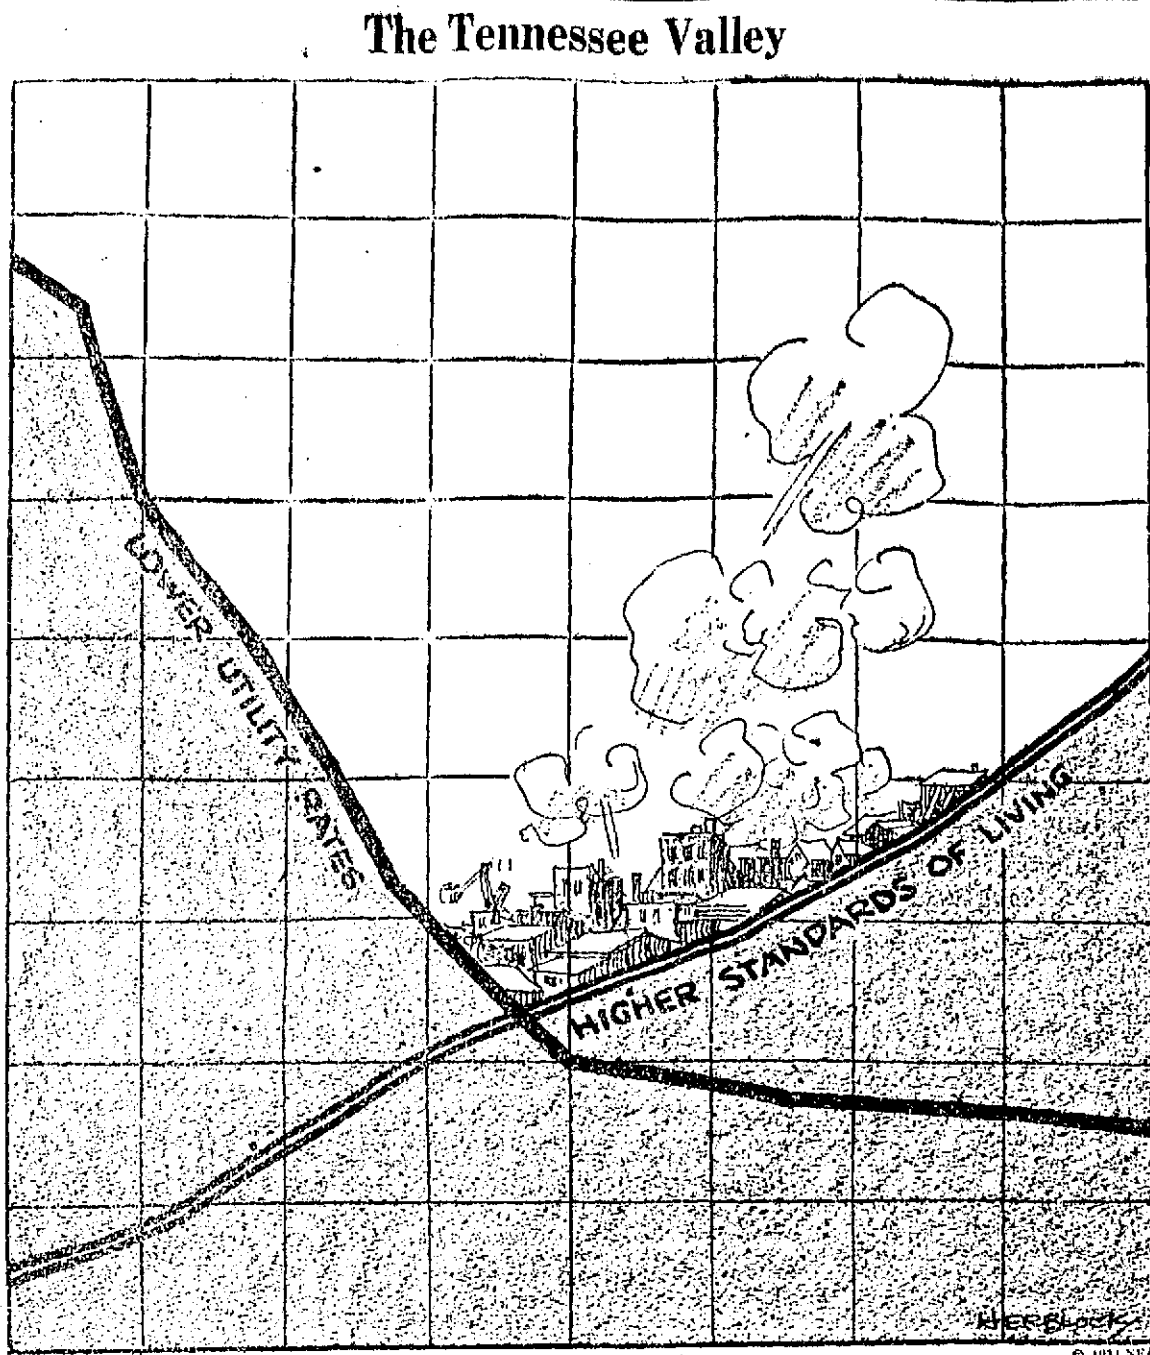

Rev. Harrell will fill his regular appointments at the Methodist church Sunday morning and night.

Mrs. Irma Rye and Miss Mary Francis Irvine, were guests of friends in Hope Saturday night.

Mrs. and Mrs. Earl Steuart, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Goodlett, Mary Norani Goodlett and Jack Goodlett, attended the picture show in Nashville Sunday afternoon.

John Norwood spent the week end with his family.

Miss Ethel Robinson of Hope spent the week end with her parents, Mr.

and Mrs. Perry Robinson. Mrs. A. K. Holloway and father, J. S. Conway of Hope, were visitors here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Bank Clark and Mrs. Mable Saunders of Texarkana, were recent visitors here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clemmens of Mt. Holly visited friends here Sunday.

The Clew of the Forgotten Murder

by CARLETON KENDRAKE

©1934 NEA Service, Inc.

BEGIN HERE TODAY When CHARLES MORDEN, reporter for "The Blade," found dead DAN BLEEKER, publisher, employee SIDNEY GRIFF, famous criminologist, to solve the murder.

Morden had been investigating the death of FRANK B. CATHAY, wealthy and prominent, following the arrest of an impostor claiming to be Cathay and accompanied by a girl called NANCY BRIGGS.

Griff learned Morden had visited the apartment of ALICE LAMPTON, pretty and unemployed. He confronted Alice with KENNETH BOONE, accused the girl of killing the impostor, and they are arrested.

Mrs. BLANCHETTE MALONE, for whom MRS. CATHAY and "CARL RALPH," detective in her employ, have been searching, is located but refuses to talk.

Griff and Bleeker go to the hotel where Mary Briggs, now known as Stella Mockley, is staying. They find CHARLES FINCHER, Cathay's lawyer there. The girl tells them the man who impersonated Cathay was FRED MALONE and that he recently telephoned "F. A. B. BLISS, Cathay's chauffeur."

Fisher leaves to question Mrs. Malone and Griff and Bleeker go to the office of EDWARD SHILLINGBY, killed on the night of the impostor's arrest. Shillingby's secretary tells them the man who hired Shillingby to shadow "CARL RALPH" was LAMPTON. Griff and Bleeker were Cathay.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XII As the two men climbed into the taxicab Bleeker poured forth eager questions which, for the most part, the criminologist answered in short, terse sentences.

"What was Cathay's interest in Lampton?"

"I doubt if he had any."

"Why was he poisoned then?"

"He took the dose of poison deliberately," the criminologist remarked.

"Why?"

"So that he would have an alibi."

"An alibi for what?"

"Why, for his whereabouts when Morden was murdered."

"He knew, then, that Morden was to be murdered?"

"Yes."

"But why did he take poison to give himself an alibi?"

"He wanted to be fit in bed. He got an overdose of the drug he took."

"You mean it was administered to him purposely?"

"Yes."

"By whom?"

"That," Griff said, "remains to be determined."

"What are your plans?"

"We are going to try to prevent another murder."

"Mrs. Malone?"

"No."

"Oh, you mean the chauffeur?"

"No."

"Who then?"

"The young woman, Stella Mockley."

"Why should she be murdered?"

"Because she is too dangerous a witness to leave at large."

BLEEKER stared for a moment at the criminologist, seemed on the point of making some retort, then dropped back to the cushions of the cab and remained silent until the cab had taken a position in front of the hotel where they had located Stella Mockley.

"You've got your gun? The one

Kansas City, Mo., for an extended visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daniell.

Jack Clemmens, member of the faculty, spent the week end as a guest of Herbert Garrett of Emmet.

Miss Zelma Woolsey spent Friday night as guest of Miss Edna Gann.

Edgar Daniell has returned to Little Rock following a week end visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Daniell.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Clemmens of Mt. Holly visited friends here Sunday.

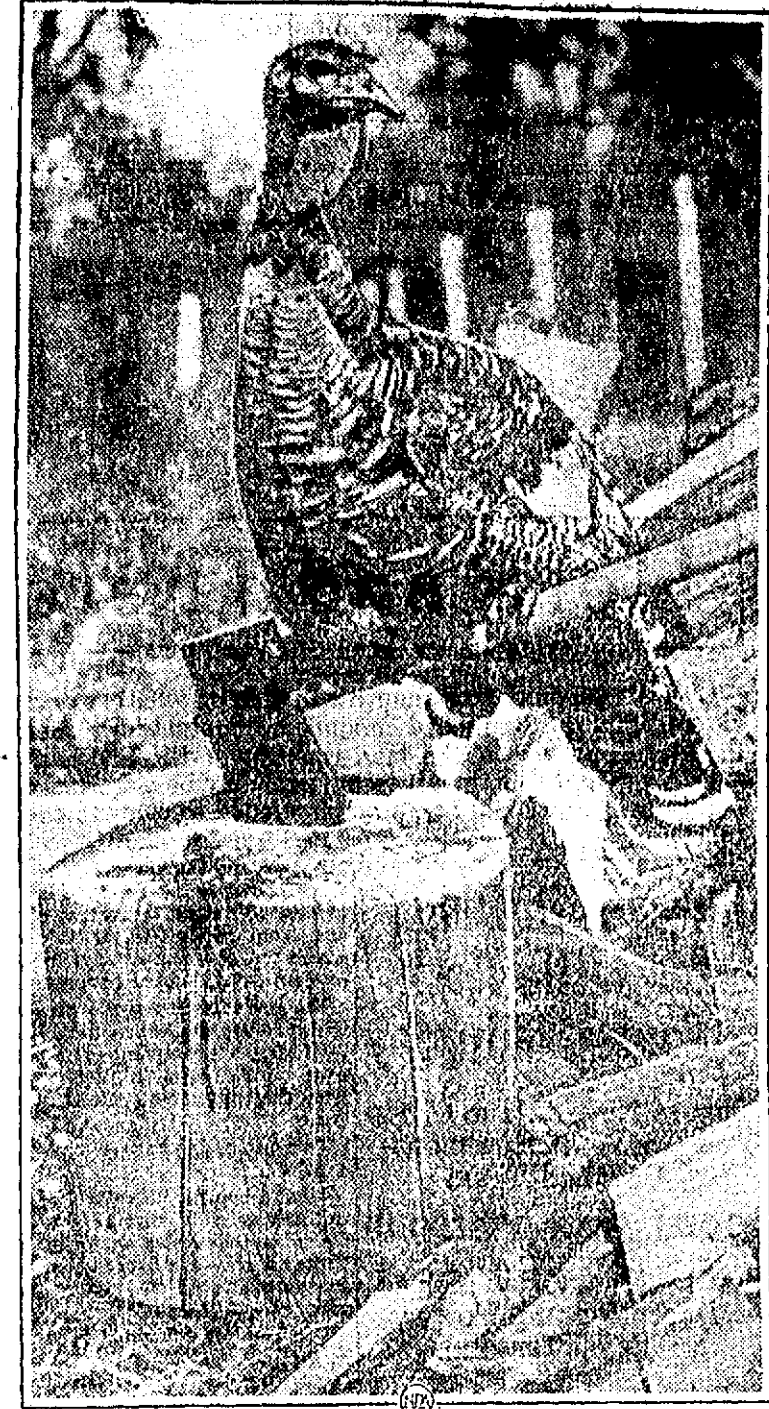

J. E. Daniell of Prescott visited relatives here Sunday.

Misses Coral McCune and Daisy Stephens had week end guest, Miss Dorris Whaley of Prescott.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Dixon of Prescott were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Steed.

The most intelligible language over the telephone is Italian, while French conveys the most ideas in the shortest length of time.

Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Ax?

What a swell roost this is, muses the turkey, as she settles herself for a rest after a session of industrious feeding. But she's been a bit careless lately about watching the barnyard calendar, so little does she reckon that the day is drawing near when this hospitable perch suddenly will be changed into an instrument of death. She's not up on ornithology, or she'd see a warning in those dark spots on the chopping block. But let her be happy while she can—Thanksgiving's still a few days away.

Bells Chapel

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Presley of Delight spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Tate.

Mrs. Euel White was the Sunday guest of Mrs. A. J. Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stewart were shopping in Hope Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grandon Brooks and daughter, Lucene spent Sunday with her father Will Zumwalt.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon Wood and daughters, Misses Irma and Joyce, were shopping in Prescott Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Luet Finley of Blevins spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Honea.

Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson of Sweet Home community were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Brooks.

Jim Brown was a business visitor in Prescott Saturday.

Gurdie Peyton of Dallas, Texas died November 15, and was buried in the Marlboro cemetery November 17.

Funeral services were conducted by Bro. Horace Honea. He leaves to mourn his departure a widow, two sons, a father, mother, five sisters and three brothers and a host of other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. William Godman, Mrs. Godman, Mrs. W. W. Brooks, Mrs. Charlie Taylor, Misses Eloise and Velma Ellis and Charlie Prince all of Hope attended the funeral of Gurdie Peyton at Marlboro Monday.

Today's Pattern

Smart for the Matron because it has gracious new slenderizing lines. Smart because it has interesting trimming. Easy to Make.

Pattern 409

THE contrasting revers in jabot effect combined with the surplice collar are very flattering and the bell-shaped sleeves with their novel trimming are of latest style. Patterns are sized 36 to 52. Size 44 requires 5-1/2 yards of 30-inch satin, crepe or velvet, with 3-1/2 yard contrasting and 4-3/4 yards for short sleeved dress.

To secure a PATTERN and STEP-BY-STEP SEWING INSTRUCTIONS, fill out the coupon below, being sure to MENTION THE NAME OF THIS NEWSPAPER.

The FALL PATTERN BOOK, with a complete selection of Julia Boyd designs, now is ready. It's 15 cents when purchased separately. Or, if you want to order it with the pattern above, send in just an additional 10 cents with the coupon.

JULIA BOYD, 103 PARK AVENUE, NEW YORK

Enclosed is 15 cents in coin for a Pattern No. Size Name Address City State Name of this newspaper

Society

Mrs. Sid Henry Telephone 321

Singing In the Rain

The trees on hills and flowers in vales keep singing in the rain. The more it rains, the more they sing. The sweeter the refrain, the rain can never be their plans upset. It only gives them more. They plan to have their picnics when the rain begins to pour. And if, to us, it seems to rain more luck or more of bad. Perhaps, if we'll sing through the rain, we'll find ourselves quite glad. And if we are more impersonal, think less of loss or gain, We'll find the very thing we need, while singing in the rain.

—Selected.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Dana Gibson, Chas. Dana Jr., Mrs. J. S. Gibson Sr., Mr. Jennie McWilliams and Mrs. F. R. Johnson were Monday visitors in Texarkana.

Mr. and Mrs. Evan Wray, Mrs. W. T. Wray and Mrs. Chas. Dana Gibson spent Tuesday in Little Rock.

The Paisley P. T. A. is improving the school grounds, and are badly in need of shrubs and flowers to plant in the splendid beds that are being made, and would greatly appreciate donations of flowers and shrubs—if you have anything that will beautify the grounds, please call Mrs. Ched Hall.

The Pre-School Study Group will meet at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mae Duffie on South Main street. Mrs. Orville Ewing will lead a program on "Discipline." All members and any mother with pre-school children are urged to be present.

The Bay View Reading Club will hold their regular bi-weekly meeting with their annual trek to the Arch Moore camp on Grassy lake on Wednesday. Mrs. Moore will have as associate hostesses, Mrs. J. S. Gibson Sr. and Mrs. Hugh Jones. Cars will leave promptly at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Mrs. C. A. Bridwell has as house

SAEGER ENDING

Horace SHEARER Fabric MARCH "The Barrells of WIMPOLE STREET" AN MGM PICTURE

WED-NITE ONLY

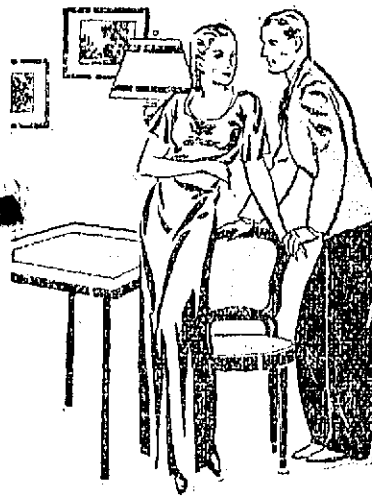

"Bank Night"

—and another good program headed by that new screen star

BINNEY BARNES ONE Exciting ADVENTURE Laurel & Hardy Comedy "OLIVER THE KID"

Coming THUR. & FRI.

ALEXANDRE DUMAS MEMORIAL STORY "COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO" WITH ROBERT DONAT—EUGEN LANTIER

Your Prettiest Clothes Will Wear Longer If Cleaned Offener

Smart women—women who are smart in appearance, and smart in the ways of thrift—long ago discovered the advantage of having clothes cleaned regularly. Now that the new, odorless DRI-SHEEN PROCESS of cleaning has been licensed to us in this community, there are more reasons than ever for having your cleaning done regularly by our plant. DRI-SHEEN makes silks look like new... imparts a lustrous sheen and soft feel that was instant admission. Let us prove DRI-SHEEN to your complete satisfaction, then you'll want our cleaning only.

DRI-SHEEN PROCESS

J. L. Green CLEANING & PRESSING "We Know How" Phone 226

Herty Expands His Dixie Paper Mill

Savannah (Ga.) Chemist Prepares for Commercial Production

SAVANNAH, Ga.—With the problem of manufacturing newsprint paper from Southern pine almost a closed issue insofar as the research chemist is concerned, Dr. Charles H. Herty and his associates in the Savannah Paper and Pulp Laboratory are soon to concentrate on the problem of utilizing the Southern pine in the production of writing paper, coated papers, and book papers.

New machinery to augment the equipment the laboratory now owns is at present being moved into the building on River Street at West Broad and will be installed and in operation within the next thirty days. A coating machine and a three-roll super-calender comprise the new equipment. The John Waldron Corporation of New Brunswick, N. J., manufactured the machinery.

Coincident with the new machinery, Dr. Herty and his associates expect to conclude their experiments in the field of newsprint manufacture. Already able to convert the slash pine of the South into high grade newsprint paper which meets all the technical requirements for strength, porosity, thickness, color, and cost, Dr. Herty and his fellow workers are now engaged in the final phase of their newsprint experiments—determination of those factors which control the degree of stiffness the finished paper should possess.

Pine newsprint paper equally as stiff and stiffer than spruce newsprint now in commercial use has been produced at the Savannah laboratory and the work now being done will complete the research workers' technique of production of newsprint from Southern pine.

An ingenious and yet simple testing machine was invented at the laboratory here to enable the degree of stiffness of various types of newsprint paper to be gauged. After being kept in the atmosphere of the testing room, where the temperature and humidity are controlled and kept to the standard maintained in all other paper-testing laboratories, the samples are placed on the testing machine, one by one.

Strips of equal length and width are cut from each sample, both with and across the grain of the paper. One end of the narrow strip is held fast under a weight and the free end of the strip is allowed to curve of its own weight. This degree of curvature is noted against a ruled scale on the instrument, and the relative curvature of the various samples tested is noted.

A number of outstanding big city newspapers have supplied Dr. Herty with samples of the newsprint paper they are now using so as to enable him to test the stiffness of the Southern pine newsprint against that of newsprint produced in various sections of Canada and other countries.

Libby's Son Will Get Six Millions

Smith Reynolds' Widow to Receive $750,000 for Herself

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C.—(AP)—The proposed division of Smith Reynolds' $25,000,000 share of his father's tobacco fortune, giving $15,000,000 to the two children, has the approval of Libby Holman Reynolds, the young sportsman's widow, who would get $750,000 under the plan.

The proposed plan to settle the long-contested estate, was filed in Forsyth Superior Court over the week-end by Reynolds' brother and sister, R. J. Reynolds Jr. and Mrs. Mary Reynolds Babcock and Mrs. Nancy Reynolds Bagley.

Under the proposal, $5,000,000 would go to Christopher Smith Reynolds, the young sportsman's posthumous son by Miss Holman, and $9,000,000 to Anne Cannon Reynolds, his daughter by his first wife, Anne Cannon Reynolds.

Except for the $750,000 Libby Holman Reynolds would get, the balance of the estate would be used for benevolent purposes. There was no explanation offered for the unequal division between the two children, but Benet Polikoff, lawyer for Miss Holman, said the proposal was acceptable to her.

Polikoff said the actress was particularly anxious to see the establishment of a benevolent fund as a memorial to her late husband.

Paraguayans Push Over the Bolivians

Chaco Territory War Comes Close to Argentina's Border

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina—(P)—Meager reports from Asuncion Sunday indicated Paraguayan forces hastily were consolidating the sweeping gains made Saturday in the Bolivian sector of the Gran Chaco, where they claimed the capture of Fort Bolivian and 10,000 prisoners.

The Argentine government was taking strict precautions on the Chaco frontier, where it was indicated that the Ministry of War that the belligerent forces were perilously close to the Argentine border.

Co-Ed Punished For 'Red Plot'

Celeste Strack, above, from severe penalty when officials at the University of California at Los Angeles charged that student officers were involved in a Communist plot. Miss Strack and four other officers were suspended for a year and a campus riot followed in which several were hurt.

Her beauty failed to save Celeste Strack, above, from severe penalty when officials at the University of California at Los Angeles charged that student officers were involved in a Communist plot. Miss Strack and four other officers were suspended for a year and a campus riot followed in which several were hurt.

Northern Party Demands "Split"

Concede Speakership to South—But Want Committee Control

WASHINGTON—(P)—Northern and Western Democrats are in a position to seize control of some important posts when the house is re-organized at the coming session of congress.

Besides the speakership and party leadership, twelve chairmanships of committees will be at stake. They were thrown open by defeats and retirements of sixty-three sitting Democrats, which resulted in a total of 157 vacancies on the 44 committees.

Holding the balance of power with 193 members, compared with the 192 from Southern and border states, Northern and Western Democrats are determined to split the party leadership. They are willing for the speakership to go South, but not the leadership and threaten to take both unless the Southerners clear the way for a division.

Southern and border states control 30 of the 47 committees, including the chairmanships of nearly all the major units that formulate legislation. Next to New York, which has seven chairmanships, Texas is second with six—appropriations, agriculture, inter-state commerce, judiciary, rivers and harbors, and public buildings and grounds.

ROOSEVELT MAY

(Continued from Page One)

portant part in this scheme. In the earlier years the inter-marriage of distant cousins in the family was looked upon with favor. Of later years, "the rich girl-poor boy" romances in the duPont family have attracted wide attention, as it has been observed that duPont heiresses make no effort to match the importance of their family name, or their wealth with that of a husband. It is said that the duPont sires favor romances of their daughters with men of no great individual interests so that the wealth and power may not become diversified.

duPonts oppose A Roosevelt-duPont romance is said to be looked upon with askance by the duPont family because members of the clan are avowed enemies of the "New Deal." Irene duPont, uncle of the debutante, is one of the founders of the newly organized Liberty League, and one of the four officials of the company who faced the recent munitions quizz conducted by the senate committee in Washington by Senator Nye.

Even those who look most pessimistically upon the development of romance find it in many ways a striking genealogical study. Though the duPont family is one of the line of Samuel Pierre duPont, scientist and advocate of advanced education and economics, and writer, the members of that family have been as strongly extroverted as the members of the Roosevelt family appear to have been.

The founder of the duPont family came from France to America little more than a hundred years after the Dutch ancestors of the Roosevelts came to this country. He came to America to become a citizen because he would not serve under Napoleon. Back in 1800 when Isaac Roosevelt, great grandfather of Franklin D. Jr., who established the family estate at Hyde Park, New York, was only ten years old, the sons of Samuel Pierre duPont had founded a banking and commission house in New York City, which failed because of non-payment of monies loaned to France due to the ill feeling of Napoleon toward the father, Isaac Roosevelt, was but 12 years old when the duPont sons of Pierre Samuel were founding the famous powder mills on the Banks of the Brandywine in Wilmington.

Bodeaw No. 1

Bro. T. L. Epton filled his regular appointment here Saturday night, Sunday and Sunday night and preached three wonderful sermons. He left Monday for Louisiana to hold a meeting near Alexandria.

Mrs. Minda Fuller left Tuesday of Dawes' Old Bank Is Sued by R. F. C.

60 Million of Original 80-Million Loan Reported Unpaid

CHICAGO—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation, of which he formerly was chairman, late Monday filed suit against Gen. Charles G. Dawes and 4,000 other stockholders of the Central Republic Trust Company (formerly known as the Central Republic Bank and Trust Company), for $14,000,000 of the $80,000,000 loan issued to the former vice president's bank by the RFC.

This is a civil suit. Shortly after the bill was filed, Federal Judge John P. Barnes issued a temporary order enjoining any other creditor from filing a similar bill in court to collect from stockholders pending further action of the federal court on the bill filed by the RFC, a suit for collection from stockholders under the law providing for double indemnity for bank stockholders.

May Ask Liquidation

Although the bill says nothing about receivership for the bank, Attorney John L. Hopkins said after filing it that he understood the state auditor would be asked to take over the Central Republic Trust Company for liquidation.

The bill alleges that the bank still owes the RFC $7,022,000 on a loan dated June 19, 1932, and $52,978,000 on a second loan dated October 6, 1932. The original amount borrowed on the first loan, it says, was $30,000,000 and on the second loan $30,000,000.

The bill is a 327-page document explaining all details of the transaction. The Central Republic Trust Company is the shell of the old Central Republic Bank and Trust Company. It has not been functioning as a bank of deposit for two years, but has been in process of liquidation. The RFC loan of nearly $60,000,000 is the principal liability of the bank. Other debts largely have been paid off.

The suit affects 4,000 individuals who hold a total of $14,000,000 worth of stock. It does not affect the City National Bank and Trust Company which took over the deposits of the Central Republic Bank and Trust Company two years ago. The City National, of which General Dawes is now chairman, is a highly liquid institution, having taken over from the old Central Republic cash equal to its deposits at the time it was organized.

Would Decide Liability

The bill asks that the federal court determine whether recovery of $14,000,000 in double liability can be had under the law from the stockholders and that if the court finds such recovery can be had, a receiver be appointed to liquidate the Central Republic and to take action against the stockholders.

The loan was made in October, 1932, shortly after General Dawes had retired as chairman of the RFC. Coming to Chicago, he found that the Central Republic, because of prolonged bank runs, needed cash. Declining to take only a small loan to meet the emergency, he insisted that it be "all or nothing." He was prepared to close the bank if the RFC was unwilling to lend enough to pay off the depositors in full. Other banks, fearful of what might happen to them, interceded for him, and a loan of the full $80,000,000 was arranged for.

All but $10,000,000 of this credit was taken. Chicago banks helped also with a $5,000,000 loan. New York banks, after having tentatively offered to lend $10,000,000 backed out, but the amount granted by the RFC was more than ample to meet all needs.

Dawes in Arkansas

General Dawes was vice president of the United States under President Coolidge and later was ambassador to the Court of St. James. During his years of absence from Chicago he had no official connection with the Central Republic Bank and Trust Company and its predecessor, the Central Trust Company of Illinois.

General Dawes Monday was in Hot Springs, Ark., to join a party of notable being entertained by H. C. Cough, former director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, holding that office at the time the Dawes loan was made.

last week for a few weeks visit with her son, T. C. Fuller and Mrs. Fuller of Dallas, Texas.

Miss Alvis Fuller who is attending school at Stamps, spent the week end with home folks Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Fuller and family.

Mrs. D. B. Bailey and Miss Sals Mitchell spent Monday with Mrs. Edgar Downs of Bodeaw, No. 2 and visited the school at Bodeaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Troy Greenlee of Hope spent Friday night with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Fuller.

Claude McConnell who has employment in Baton Rouge, La., spent the week end with home folks.

M. J. Fuller of Stamps spent the week end with relatives of this place and attended church here Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. G. E. Fuller spent Friday with Mrs. M. B. Gentry of near Hope. Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Fuller and Mr. and Mrs. Orla Fuller were visitors in Stamps Wednesday of last week.

Miss C. F. Martin is improving after having had the flu the past week. Miss Ione Galloway of Stamps spent the week end with Miss Alvis Fuller of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mullins and Tracy Mullins returned to their home in Southern Texas Tuesday of last week after spending several days with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Mullins and family of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wright and little daughter, Edna Earl, spent Tuesday night of last week with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fuller and family.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bailey and daughter, Nellie Jean, spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fuller.

Miss Alta Lee May of Bodeaw No. 2 spent the week end with Miss Marie Mullins.

Sister MARY'S KITCHEN

Cider Makes Prime Pie Zestful—Can Be Substituted in Children's Thanksgiving Menu for Mince Pie

BY MARY E. DAGUE NEA Service Staff Writer

Gary Cooper's favorite dessert is pie, and of all pies, I am told, the one he orders oftenest to top off his lunch on work days at the studios is a lattice-top prune pie. In fact, he usually orders not one portion, but two.

Mr. Cooper, a man from the wide open ranges of Montana, has definite ideas on how prune pie should be made. Here is his own special recipe, not too rich and sweet, just delicious.

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast: Orange juice, cereal, cream, crisp bacon, toast, milk, coffee.

Luncheon: Cream of corn soup, open egg and lettuce sandwiches, prime cider pie, milk, tea.

Dinner: Larded and braised calf's liver, steamed rice, cauliflower, pickled peach and cheese ball salad, zwieback coconut tart, milk, coffee.

Prune Cider Pie

Two cups cooked prunes, ½ cup prune juice, 1½ cups sweet cider, ½ cup granulated sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons butter, 4 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons pastry.

Wash prunes well and soak several hours before cooking. Then simmer just below the boiling point until tender and plump but not too mushy and broken. It will take several hours, three or four, to do this but the fruit will be delicious. Remove pits and cut into quarters. Combine prune juice, cider, sugar and salt. Bring to the boiling point and stir in cornstarch stirred to a smooth paste with four tablespoons cold water. Bring to the boiling point and cook five minutes, stirring constantly. Add prunes, lemon juice and butter and remove from fire. Pour into a pie dish lined with pastry and cover with strips of pastry, lattice fashion. Bake fifteen minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees F.).

One thing I specially like about this pie is the simplicity of the filling. It would be fine for small children because it's really nothing more than stewed prunes thickened with cornstarch. It would be splendid, by the way, to serve to the younger guests at the Thanksgiving dinner when the oldsters have their mince pie.

Cream of Corn Soup

One cup canned corn, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon flour, 2½ cups milk, 1 teaspoon grated onion, 2 tablespoons minced celery leaves, 1 tablespoon salt, ¼ teaspoon white pepper, pop-corn.

Melt butter and add onion and celery leaves. Cook over low fire for five minutes. Stir in flour and when bubbling, slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and add salt and pepper. Add corn and simmer five minutes. Rub through a strainer and serve with hot buttered pop-corn.

Hat Sale

THE GIFT SHOP Phone 252 Front Street

Very Much Improved After Taking Cardui

"I have suffered a great deal from cramping," writes Mrs. W. A. Sewell, Sr., of Waco, Texas. "I would chill and have to go to bed for about three days at a time. I would have a dull, tired, sleepy feeling. A friend told me to try Cardui, thinking it would help me—and it did. I am very much improved and do not spend the time in bed. I certainly can recommend Cardui to other sufferers."

Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

California Tourist Hurt in Accident

Mrs. I. E. Thorne, San Diego, Recovering From Crash East of Hope

Mrs. I. E. Thorne of San Diego, Cal., was recovering here Tuesday from injuries received in an automobile accident Saturday two miles east of Hope on the Emmet highway.

The automobile her husband was driving was crowded off the highway by a second car which swerved too much to the left in attempting to pass a wagon while approaching the Thorne car.

The driver of the second car failed to stop. The Thorne car plunged into a ditch to avoid being struck. Mrs. Thorne, an elderly woman, sustained an injured back and bruises about the body.

Nation Is Entering Good Business Era

This Is Forecast by Industry's Alliance With Government

WASHINGTON—(P)—The end of a period of economic reforms is seen—or at least hoped for—by many business men in the newly formed partnership between industrial organizations and the administration.

Just ahead, they predict, lies an era of concentration upon the stimulation of business activity in which the optimistic spirit of the moment will be fostered and kept alive in the expectation the tit may lead the way to recovery.

Even the American Federation of Labor, which the business men have virtually excluded from the new cooperative effort, reported that the powerful but intangible force, of business sentiment had apparently taken a turn for the better within the last month.

As it grows older, the bonafide becomes shorter. The young take on a slender eel-like appearance for a time and then become shorter and more compact.

Old Shoes Made New

Parson's Shoe Shop 111 South Main Phone 667 We call for and deliver.

Fill Your Basket at MIDDLEBROOKS' from These Suggested Specials for WEDNESDAY

MATCHES 25c 6 Boxes

COFFEE 31c Dining Car

Rath's Box BACON, lb. 30c 24 Lb. Sack $1.15

MIDDLEBROOKS' SERVICE GROCERY

Phone 606 Prompt Delivery

FLASH

100 New Street and Sport Dresses go on Sale

Wednesday, Nov. 21st at 9 o'clock.

$1.98

J.C. PENNEY CO.

Where a Nation Shops and Saves

Willisville

Mrs. Hattie Silvey and daughter, Betty Jean, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Deward Silvey at Rocky Mount.

Fletcher Woodruff got his finger mangled in the rock crusher at the Williams roofing plant last week. We hope he will soon be able to work again.

Howell and J. T. Martin and Lindell Simpson called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pascal Simpson Saturday night.

Mrs. Nora Waters spent Tuesday of last week with Mrs. Beulah Simpson. J. H. Waters, Lee Waters and Mrs. Hattie Mae Silvey attended church at Whites Chapel Sunday.

Clothes moth is an annual damage of $250,000,000 in the United States.

Now In Progress One Cent Sale of 200 Silk Dresses

Buy one—get another for only a penny.

Ladies Specialty Shop

"Exclusive But Not Expensive"

SPECIAL Croqu沿海 Permanent (Complete)

For a Limited Time Only $1.25

Mary's Beauty Shop Phone 287

We Suggest—CREOMULSION

—for that cough that hangs on.

Sold by us on a positive money back guarantee to give results.

John P. Cox Drug Co.

Phone 84 We Deliver

DAILY BARGAIN COLUMN

These unusually low values will be sold only on the days they are listed. Each is an outstanding bargain and we suggest that you come early as our stock is limited on many items.

WEDNESDAY NUNN-BUSH SHOES

Choice of any calfskin Nunn-Bush Oxford in the house. Wednesday only $5.00

As Long as 500 Yards Last YARD WIDE OUTING 10c yard

Fancies, Dark and Light Patterns. Limit: 10 yards to a customer.

THURSDAY at 10 a. m.

15 pc. DINNER SET $1.00

Limit: One to a customer

While 200 pairs last LADIES DRESS SHOES $1.00

FRIDAY

Regular $1.00 "RINGLESS" HOSE 3 pairs for $2.50

Exceptionally fine Chiffon Hose in new Fall colors. Three thread, 48 gauge with a heel within a heel.

Stephen L. Stetson MEN'S HATS $3.00

SATURDAY

A Golden Harvest Special for the Children RED GOOSE SCHOOL TABLETS 3 for 5c

ROBISON'S

Men's Suits

Famous Curlee, Merit and Kirschbaum Brands, specially priced for our Golden Harvest Sale.

$22.50

We have selected a special group of Men's High Grade Suits from our stock of Curlee, Merit and Kirschbaum brands, which usually sell at a much higher price. Plenty of sizes and styles in greys, browns, blue serges and tweeds. Men—they're real boys.

Special Lot of 100

Men's Suits $12.48

We have selected about 100 Men's Suits to sell at this exceptionally low price. They are well tailored and made from good quality woolsens. We bought them this fall to sell for $16.85. Our loss—your gain.

Suede Coats

Genuine Suede Leather Sport Coats. Just the thing for hunting trips or outdoor wear. These are high quality, well made coats at real savings.

Leather $4.98

Sport Coats

Suede Cloth $1.98

Men's Dress SHIRTS $1.19

Famous Shirts, Brand Shirts in fancy patterns, blues, greys and light backgrounds. All sizes and sleeve lengths.

Men's Felt HATS in Fall Shades

Golden Harvest Special $1.98

Men's Ribbed U-SUITS $69c

Winter Weight Men's Chalmers Rib Union Suits, winter weight, long sleeves, ankle length. Regular $1.00 value.

Men's Coat Sweaters

Good, warm Coat Sweaters at a real Golden Harvest Sale price. Men—don't let a value like this slip by.

98c

Men's Fall Topcoats

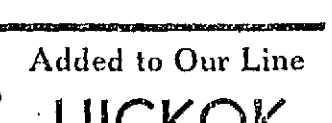

New Fall Topcoats in all the latest, authentic styles. Expertly tailored from fine quality woolsens in Tweeds and Checkings. Sizes 32 to 44.

$7.48

Men's Dress OXFORDS $1.98

All leather Black Dress Oxfords with composition soles. Cap and plain toe. Specially priced for this sale.

Added to Our Line HICKOK Belts - Buckles Suspenders

Golden Harvest Specials

Fancy Suspenders 25c

Men's Wide Belts 25c

Golden Harvest SALE MEN'S SOX

Men's fancy patterned socks. Golden Harvest Sale price—15c

Men's part-wool socks. Golden Harvest Sale price—15c

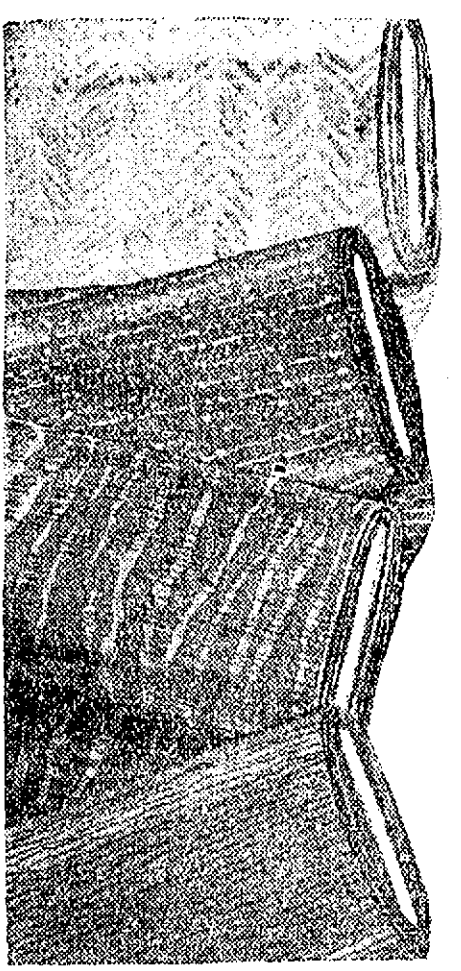

Men's wool socks for heels. Golden Harvest Sale price—49c

Men's work socks. Golden Harvest Sale price—10c

GOLDEN HARVEST Now in Progress

The Golden Harvest Sale is our great Fall merchandising event. We have gone through our store thoroughly and made every possible price reduction we could. Our Christmas stock is coming in and we have to sell out our fall merchandise to make room for it. This Sale is truly a Golden Opportunity for you to make real savings on your fall clothing needs. Look over the many bargains we have listed here—make out your shopping list—and then come to the Golden Harvest Sale and SAVE.

PIECE GOODS

Silk Crepe

All silk crepe in the season's newest styles, also in stripes and plaids. Full width. A Golden Harvest value.

77c

Yard Wide Prints

Yard wide prints in good patterns. Colors are—cut again. Extra quality for the price.

10c

Mattress Ticking—Plaid and Check.

10c

Good heavy OUTFIT—solid and plaid.

10c

Brown DOMESTIC—yard wide. Island finish.

10c

Golden Harvest

Part Wool Blankets

Part wool double Blankets, warm and heavy. Plaid, Solid, and large size.

66x80 $1.98 Double

Plaid Blankets

Cotton Blankets in plaid, Double size. Blue, rose, lavender and gold.

$1.49

Double Cotton BLANKETS

Cotton Blankets, double size—solid grey—66x80. Very special at

66x80 $1.39 Grey

Baby Blankets, large size, in blue or pink. A Golden Harvest buy at—

Blue 69c Pink

Specials for Men

Work Shoes $1.98

Men's good, leather Work Shoes with composition soles. Black with soft cap toe—brown with plain toe. A real Golden Harvest Special.

Blue Buckle OVERALLS 98c

Men's Blue Buckle Overalls, solid blue with vest back, express stripes with high back. Sizes 32 to 42.

Work Shirts 98c

Men's Suede Cloth Work Shirts, full cut, two pockets, well made.

Slip Over Style Boys' Sweaters 69c

A Golden Harvest Special

Corduroy Pants $2.75

Men's high grade Corduroy Suits (pants and jackets to match). Specially priced for this sale.

Jackets to Match $2.75

THE L

Geo. W. Robison & Co. Hope

Values for Ladies

Union Suits 69c

Ladies winter weight Union Suits with long sleeves—ankle length; short sleeves, knee length. Sizes 36 to 44.

Union Suits 49c

Ladies winter weight Union Suits, sleeveless—knee length. All sizes.

Children's Union Suits 39c

Panties, Vests 25c

Ladies knit Panties with Vests to match. Peach colored. All sizes.

Coat Sweaters $1.98

Ladies good quality Coat Sweaters specially priced for our Golden Harvest Sale.

Hand Bags 25c-49c

Ladies Felt HATS Stylish 98c

Bloomers Jersey 25c

CHILDREN'S HOSE 5c to 10c

GIVE EAGLE STAMPS

THE L

S-A-L-E

Ladies' Fine COATS

$9.98

Fur Trimmed Dress Coats Sport Coats — Tailored Coats Tweeds — Wool Coating — Polo

We feel like giving a good loud cheer for these fine Coats—They're so right in every way. Warm, Smart, expertly tailored from quality cloths. Values up to $15.00.

Special Lot $6.98 Coats

Fabrics of fine quality—and styles definitely new! Fur trimmed and tailored. Stitched collars. Sizes up to 14.

Stunningly Styled DRESSES

Silks - - Wools

$4.98

One and Two-Piece Models

They're the most entrancing dresses we've seen this season, and real finds at this price. Every important fashion is represented in Silks and Woolsens. Some Velvet trims, some Corduroys—one and two piece styles. We are really proud to offer such an outstanding value for our Golden Harvest Sale.

Actual Illustrations of Shoes on Sale

Special Purchase S-A-L-E

of High Quality

SHOES

$5 to $7 Values for

$1.98

$2.98

Sizes 21 1/2 to 9—Lasts AAA to C

Black Kid - Brown Kid - Black Suede - Brown Suede - Crush Kid in Black and Brown - Suede and Kid Combinations - Kid and Patent Combinations.

This is truly a chance of a lifetime. Every shoe is a well made, stylish, up-to-the-minute $5 and $7 value. We made an exceptionally lucky purchase of four samples from the world's largest shoe manufacturer—so we are passing our bargain on to you during this Sale. Better plan on buying several pairs for they are real buys. We have got plenty of styles and sizes in stock so you are sure to find just what you want.

Plenty of SIZES Still in Stock

Size	Number	Size	Number
21 1/2	6	6	43
22	19	6 1/2	51
23	18	7	42
24	60	7 1/2	21
25	40	8	50
26	17	8 1/2	75
27	24	9	105

Robison & Co. Nashville

Biblical Heroine

HORIZONTAL

1 Who said, "For wither thou goest, I will go?"

2 Who was her mother-in-law?

3 Both women's husbands had:

4 Perseus

5 Aker

6 Both were:

7 Scarlet

8 Confidant

9 Name

10 Corpse

11 Meritment

12 Sheltered place

13 South America

14 Child

15 Skillet

16 Monkey

17 Young salmon

18 Medicine

19 To listen

20 To listen

21 Ejects

22 Harem

23 God

24 Right

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

1 AMOS

2 ALABAMA

3 AMOS

4 AMOS

5 AMOS

6 AMOS

7 AMOS

8 AMOS

9 AMOS

10 AMOS

11 AMOS

12 AMOS

13 AMOS

14 AMOS

15 AMOS

16 AMOS

17 AMOS

18 AMOS

19 AMOS

20 AMOS

21 AMOS

22 AMOS

23 AMOS

24 AMOS

25 AMOS

26 AMOS

27 AMOS

28 AMOS

29 AMOS

30 AMOS

31 AMOS

32 AMOS

33 AMOS

34 AMOS

35 AMOS

36 AMOS

37 AMOS

38 AMOS

39 AMOS

40 AMOS

41 AMOS

42 AMOS

43 AMOS

44 AMOS

45 AMOS

46 AMOS

47 AMOS

48 AMOS

49 AMOS

50 AMOS

51 AMOS

52 AMOS

53 AMOS

54 AMOS

55 AMOS

56 AMOS

57 AMOS

58 AMOS

59 AMOS

60 AMOS

61 AMOS

62 AMOS

63 AMOS

64 AMOS

65 AMOS

66 AMOS

67 AMOS

68 AMOS

69 AMOS

70 AMOS

71 AMOS

72 AMOS

73 AMOS

74 AMOS

75 AMOS

76 AMOS

77 AMOS

78 AMOS

79 AMOS

80 AMOS

81 AMOS

82 AMOS

83 AMOS

84 AMOS

85 AMOS

86 AMOS

87 AMOS

88 AMOS

89 AMOS

90 AMOS

91 AMOS

92 AMOS

93 AMOS

94 AMOS

95 AMOS

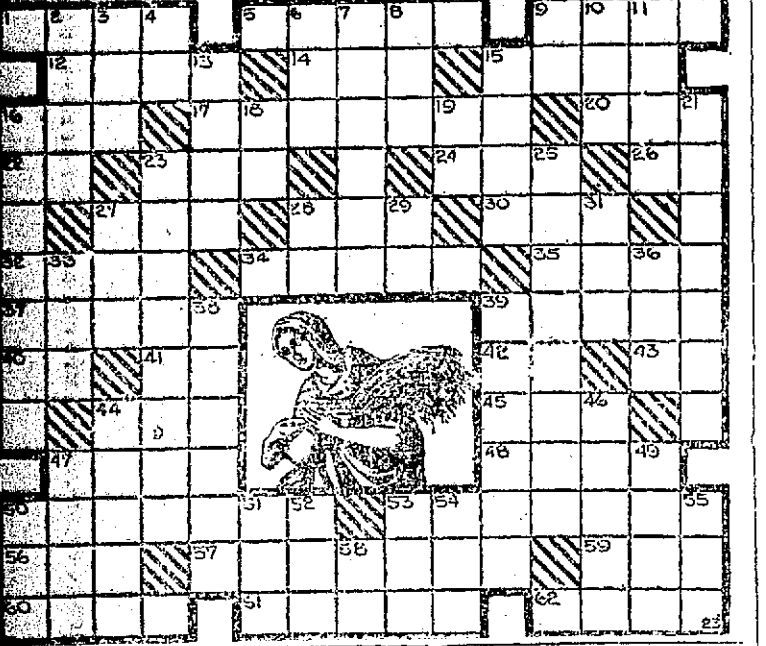

96 AMOS

97 AMOS

98 AMOS

99 AMOS

100 AMOS

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK.—Hockey, the glistering game that came out of the north lake the larger eastern cities by St. Louis strengthening the chain of new faces increasing interest in the sport.

Officials were more active last summer than ever before, yet no club was asked sufficiently to make it stand over the remainder of the field. The baseball magnate, the major league owner knows not where to turn for suitable talent. Asked if he intended to rebuild the New York Rangers, the biggest money man, Lester Patrick replied, "Who? Lynn Patrick, faint son of the tiger strategist, is breaking in under his father this season, by the way, with hockey spreading like soft clay heads cannot understand so few first-rate players are developed.

The most important deal sent Howie Moroz to the Chicago Black Hawks, and brought huge Lionel Conacher to the Montreal Maroons via a somewhat circuitous route.

Managers in new roles are Tommy Gorman, one-time leader of the New York Americans, with the Maroons, and Clem Loughlin, brought up from the smaller fry to replace Gorman in Chicago. The veteran Frank Patrick is coaching the Boston Bruins, working in conjunction with Art Ross.

If Dean Duo Could Skate!

The National League again comprises nine clubs, five in the International group and four in the American.

The Ottawa Senators were moved bag and baggage to St. Louis to reward the good people of the Mound City for their patronage of minor league hockey.

Sam Breaden wishes St. Louis would become as enthusiastic about the Cardinals, and there is little question but that he would advise those backing the ice business not to satiate the customers with championships.

And the hockey people no doubt would like to come up with a Dizzy and Daffy Dean on skates, not to mention a Joe Medwick or a Bill DeLancey.

Experts declare that no team will be stronger than its goalie, wherein Boston, with Tiv Thompson; the Americans, with Roy Worters; and the Montreal Canadiens, with Wilfrid Cude, appear to have edges. Cude did a phenomenal job of keeping the puck out of the Detroit net last season.

Lorne Chabot's support is uncertain in Chicago. Toronto is going it with the old-timer, George Hainsworth. Detroit alternates the grizzled John Ross Roach and the peagreen, Normie Smith. The Maroons have Alex Connell, one of the oldest players in the league, and the erratic Dave Kerr. St. Louis is experimenting with Bill Beveridge.

Chances Match Game's Speed

Evidently disappointed in Percy Jackson, the Rangers have fallen back on Andy Aitkenhead, whose nervous breakdown last season was held responsible for the collapse of a team that enjoyed a remarkable run as a unit over a period of years.

If any one combination has a distinct advantage, many close observers say it is the Toronto Maple Leafs, even though Joe Primeau was unable to start the campaign, due to an injured thumb, and Charley Conacher is a violent bailout.

Not a few see the Maroons as dark horses. They have Lionel Conacher, and Gorman, who left Chicago with a splendid record, has them hustling, and plans to carry 19 athletes, even though he can have no more than 15 in uniform.

But the Black Hawks fail to see why they can't repeat. The Bruins scarcely can be classed as roundheels, and the Rangers usually are there or thereabouts when the outfit's roar into the stretch.

Hockey is the fastest sport of all, and its changes match its speed.

Market Place

Remember, the more you tell, the quicker you sell.

1 time, 10c line, min. 30c

2 consecutive insertions, minimum of 3 lines in one ad.

3 times, 8c line, min. 50c

4 times, 5c line, min. 90c

5 times, 3 1/2c line, min. 32c

(Average 5 1/2 words to the line)

NOTE—Wants ads will be accepted with the understanding that the advertiser is payable on presentation of statement, before the first publication.

Phone 768

FOR RENT

FOR RENT: South bed room, with bathroom, phone 321.

FOR RENT—Four room furnished apartment and garage. J. A. Sullivan, North Elm Street. 19-6c.

FOR SALE

UTO GLASS FOR ALL CARS. P. A. Lewis Motor Co. 1f.

Paint Sold—Hope Bldg. Mat. Co.

BARGAINS IN USED CARS. P. A. Lewis Motor Co.

Wall Paper—Hope Bldg. Mat. Co.

USED PARTS FOR ALL CARS. P. A. Lewis Motor Co.

FOR SALE—Official surveyor's compass with Jacob's stand and box, $50.00. Phone 117.50. Owned by P. F. Campbell, Hope Route Three, may be seen at McDaniel's grocery, Third St., Hope. 19-31c.

LOST

OST—Yellow Jersey Cow, 6 years old. Strayed from lot on West Fifth St. Thursday afternoon. Reward information or return. Phone 428. 18-31c.

OST—Silver plated Victory Cigar at Hope High school. Reward for turn. Mrs. Carl Bruper Phone 843. 20-31c.

Harmony

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sanford and Mrs. Harley Rogers visited at the oil well on the McWilliams place Sunday afternoon.

Curtis Daugherty was dinner guest of Herman McMillen Sunday.

Howard Sanford spent Sunday with Buster Rogers.

Mrs. Sparks and Mrs. Rexroe of Hope spent Thursday night with Mrs. Nellie Leach of Harmony.

Mrs. Myrtle McMillen and daughter Dorothy were calling on friends at this place Sunday afternoon.

Little Grandon Britt was seriously hurt in an accident which happened at their home Sunday afternoon.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

THAT OLD RACE HORSE SURE IS DOING SOME HEAVY GRAZING ON THE MAJOR'S BANK-ROLL—AMOS SOLD ME HIS ROADSTER, AT A LOSS, TO KEEP THAT SPAVIN IN OATS UNTIL SPRING!

WELL, ANYHOW, WHEN TH' WORST COMES, TH' MAJOR CAN MAKE TH' POORHOUSE IN A TROT! HIS POCKETS WERE NEVER MEANT TO HOLD ANYTHING BUT FINGERS!

TALKS TO ME ABOUT TH' KENTUCKY DERBY—AN' I TOLD HIM TH' ONLY WAY HIS NAG COULD GET AROUND THAT TRACK WAS WITH A SPRINKLING CART!

THE MAJOR STILL HAS ABOUT $500.

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

LOUIS, YOU HAVE SUCH A DUSKY HOME HERE! IT'S JUST THE KIND OF A NEST I'VE ALWAYS DREAMED ABOUT

I REALLY AM A HOME-BODY, YOU KNOW! OH, I'D JUST LOVE A HOME OF MY OWN, BUT, POOR LITTLE MONA, I DON'T SUPPOSE SHE'LL EVER HAVE ONE—NOR ANYONE TO LOOK AFTER HER

NOW! NOW! AS A MATTER OF FACT, I'VE MEANT TO SPEAK TO YOU ABOUT

ALLEY OOP

TH' NERVE OF THAT OL' FAKER! TELLIN' US HE HAD A SWELL CLUE AS TO WHAT HAPPENED T' WOOTIE—

BAH! I'LL SHOW 'EM! I'LL GET ME A CLUE THAT'LL CURL THEIR TOE-NAILS!

AN' THEN SNEAKIN' AROUND TO TH' CLUE WED FOUND!

I'LL CALL ON TH' WOOTIE; THAT'S WHAT I'LL DO!

CAVE OF THE WOOTIE

KEEP OUT!

WASH TUBBS

YOO HOO! WISHIE-WASHIE

WHO YOU CALLIN' WISHIE-WASHIE? LAY OFF, WILL YA.

IF YOU DON'T LIKE WISHIE-WASHIE, I KNOW, I'LL CALL YOU DUCKY-WUCKY.

MY GOSH, NO! AT'S EVEN WORSE.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

THE WHISTLE BLOWS! JORDAN, OF SHADYSIDE, KICKS OFF... THE GAME WITH KINGSTON IS ON!

BUFFY COHN, OF KINGSTON, CATCHES IT ON HIS FIVE-YARD LINE... HE PAGES UP THE FIELD... MEN ARE BLOCKED OUT...

HE'S ON THE FORTY-YARD LINE, IN SHADYSIDE TERRITORY!

THE NEWFANGLES (Mom'n Pop)

DETERMINED TO PREVENT NICK FROM CHEATING HER OUT OF HER ONE CHANCE TO BE ON EASY STREET, LIL PROCEEDS WITH HER SCHEME TO RECOVER DAN'S $100,000

THE MOM I THINK OF THIS MUNCH, THE BETTER I KNOW I'LL BE NO OUT FOR THE... I'LL BE NO OUT FOR THE... I'LL BE NO OUT FOR THE...

By AHERN OUT OUR WAY

MY GAWSH, ICK! I AIN'T NEVER HEARD ANYBODY USE SUCH A VARIETY OF LANGUAGE, ALL IN ONE BREATH, BEFORE.

ISE GIVIN' THANKS FO BEIN' SAVED FROM FALLIN' AN' CUSSIN' CAUSE IT WERE A HANDFUL OB BRIARS DAT SAVED ME.

HEROES ARE MADE—NOT BORN.

Just in Time!

OH, HELLO THERE

PEEK-A-BOO, DARLING! COME IN... BILLY AND I WERE JUST GETTING READY TO GO OUT. WEREN'T WE, SWEETIE PIE?

WHY, YEAH, YES, OF COURSE

SWELL! I'LL GO WITH YOU

Smoke Gets in His Eyes!

TH' WOOTIE KNOWS MORE ABOUT WHAT HAPPENS, BEFORE IT HAPPENS, THAN WE DO, AFTER IT'S HAPPENED.

SKETCHIN', GEHUNK! TH' WOOTIE WANTS SOME NEWS—SEAR GEWOOK KERPLUNK! HAND ME OUT SOME CLUES

That's Settled!

GOODY, GOODY! I KNOW, I'LL CALL YOU TUBBY-WUBBY.

MY NAME'S TUBBS, SEE. MISTER G. WASHINGTON TUBBS.

HEY, LISSEN, DERN YOU! YOU CALL ME TUBBY-WUBBY AN' I'M GUNNA CALL YOU DIZZY-WIZZY!

OO—THAT'S A NIFTY-NIFTY, PLEASE DO, I JUST ADORE CUTEY-WOOTIE NAMES.

In the Twinkle of an Eye!

LOOKIT 'IM GO! HE'S ON THE FORTY-YARD LINE... THE THIRTY... THE TWENTY... THE TEN! WOW! DODO BENSON NEARLY GOT HIM! CONN IS OVER FOR A TOUCHDOWN!

FAMOUS FOOTBALL FEATS!

YALE always will have a score to even with Princeton, even though it wins every game against the Tigers from now to the year 2000.

It's all because Arthur Poe, Princeton quarter away back in 1898, stole the ball from a Yale man and galloped 100 yards for the winning touchdown in a 6-0 game.

Durnstine of Yale was plowing through the Princeton line from the Tigers' 2-yard stripe when Doc Hillebrand, Princeton man, collared him. Poe slid in behind the Yale halfback, snatched the ball from under his arm—a play entirely legal—and hot-footed it for the Yale goal.

It wasn't until the last stripe that Benjamin, Yale player, caught up with the flying Poe—but it was too late then.

Lillie's Plot Thickens!

THERE—BA-LIEVE ME, HARD-BOILED OLD NICK SURE WILL BURN UP WHEN I TRAP HIM ON THIS ONE!

NOW, TO SEE DAN—I WONDER IF I'M FALLING IN LOVE WITH HIM?

Starts Thursday, November 22

Lovable

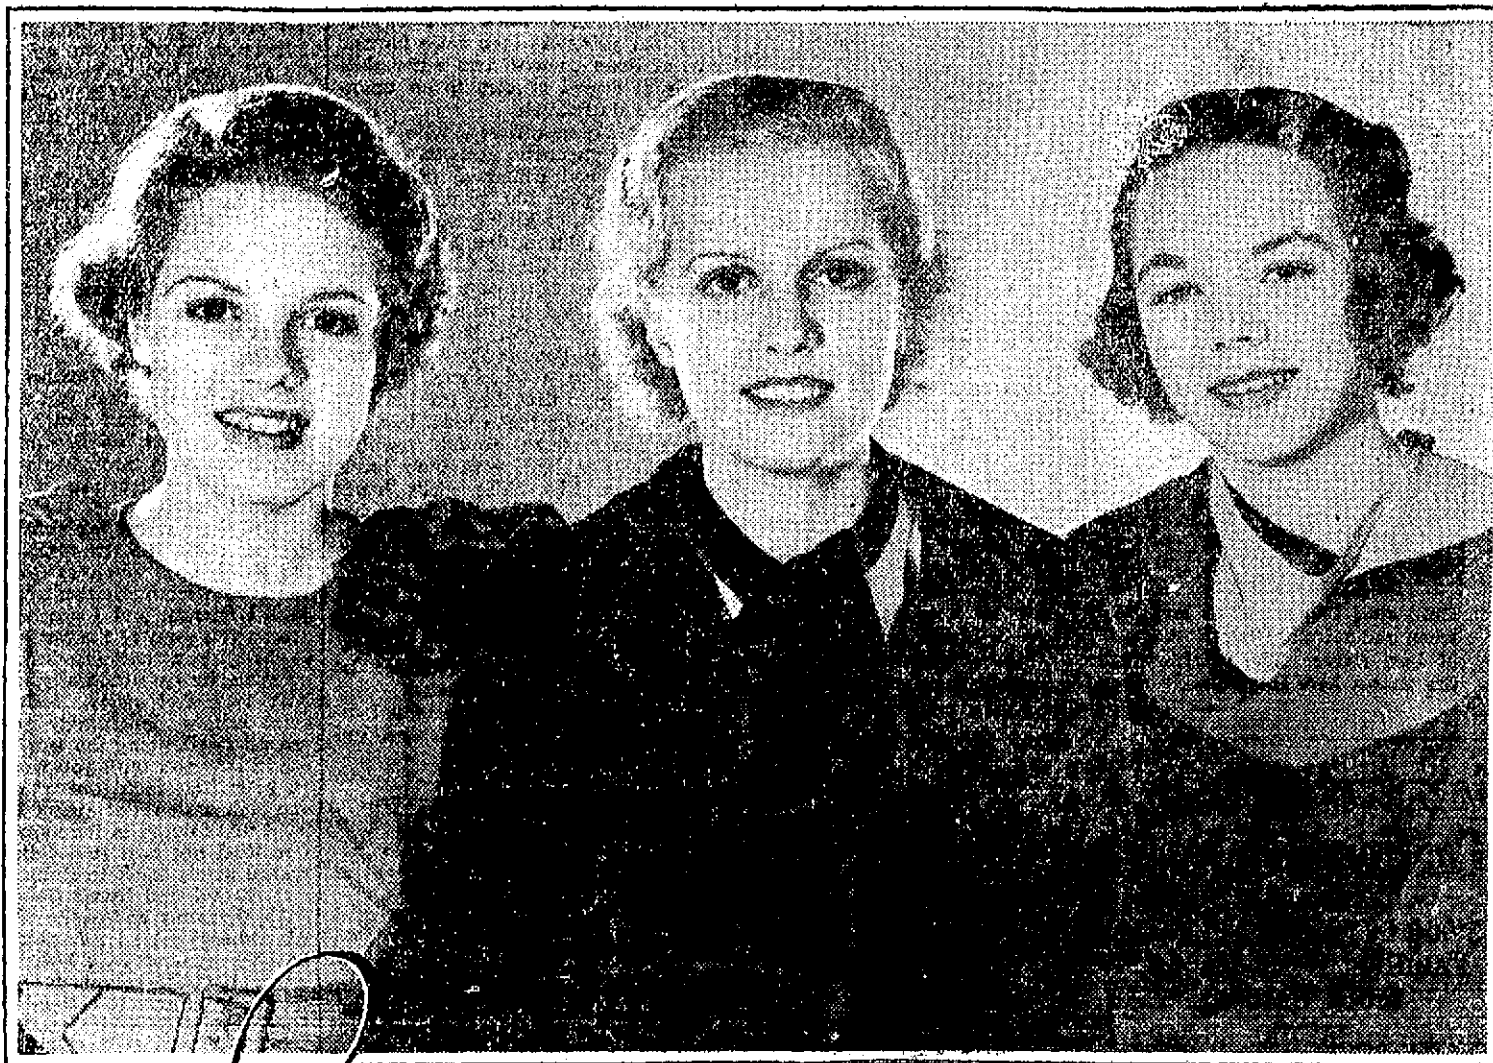

By MARY RAYMOND
© 1934 NEA SERVICE, INC.

ANN HOLLISTER, disappointed in Tony Mickle, runs away to marry wealthy young Peter Kendall. Then "because he doesn't love her," she runs away from Peter. At least, so Ann believes until . . . after a series of thrilling adventures Ann comes to realize that a "friendly marriage" has blossomed into real love.

An unusual love story with three heroines, yet something more than a romantic triangle.

Lovable

Life begins with romance

FOR ANN HOLLISTER, VALERIA BENNETT AND SARAH KENT. Like girls in your own neighborhood, they seek happiness . . . romance . . . adventure . . . love . . . marriage . . . thrills that come to all youth.

VALERIA BENNETT had known Peter Kendall since childhood. It had always been understood they would marry. But Valeria lost Peter to pretty Ann Hollister because she couldn't bear to give up certain liberties while engaged. Her love for parties proves fatal and a poor little librarian runs off with her fiancé.

You'll enjoy reading this true-to-life serial.

Lovable

'Just a Glimmer!'

Read This
Fascinating New Serial
Every Day in the
Hope Star

Beginning Thursday, November 22

Diamonds and Hearts

TONY MICKLE wanted to give Ann Hollister an engagement ring . . . on Christmas Day. Instead he broke her heart.

Peter Kendall proposed. Ann accepted. But the marriage was a "friendly" affair, without affection, and Ann craved attention.

EVERY girl seeking married happiness—every wife who has it—will thrill when reading this new serial.

Lovable
By Mary Raymond

Gophers, Pitt and Alabama Leaders

Alan Gould Rates Schmidt's Ohio Buckeyes 4th in Nation

By ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Writer)

NEW YORK. (AP)—Rounding up the gridiron first after the most explosive week-end of the 1934 intercollegiate season, here's our idea of how the "first ten" ranking of the major league "clubs" should be shaken up:

1. Minnesota; 2. Pittsburgh; 3. Alabama; 4. Ohio State; 5. Stanford; 6. Rice; 7. Colgate; 8. Louisiana State; 9. Army; 10. Temple.

This leaves plenty of room for argument. Minnesota and Alabama have the only "perfect" records but that isn't necessarily the final yardstick for measuring greatness. All things considered, Yale's eleven "iron men" played one of the greatest games of the whole season against Princeton, but that doesn't entitle the Elis to a place in the "first ten." It's possible for a great team to take one "on the chin" and still come back to rank among the best, like Pittsburgh or Ohio State.

Critics who have had a good chance to compare all three do not hesitate to rate Pitt and Ohio State for all-around class, speed, deception and power.

It's difficult to compare Alabama, Stanford and Rice with these three, chiefly because they play mostly in different sectional company. It's noteworthy, however, that Rice and Stanford scored the only inter-sectional victories over Big Ten teams by beating Purdue and Northwestern, respectively.

Alabama's Crimson Tide remains the favorite for the Rose Bowl nomination against Stanford, baring an upset for the Pacific coast leaders in this Saturday's "big game" against California, but don't count Pittsburgh out of the Pasadena picture until the final returns are posted. It may not necessarily be a factor in the situation but it is interesting to note that Claude (Tiny) Thornhill, Stanford's head coach, and Dr. John B. (Jack) Sutherland, head man among the Pitt Panthers, played side by side in the line on one of Pittsburgh's greatest teams in 1916.

Coached by Glenn (Pop) Warner, the 1916 Pitt team was unbeaten. Thornhill played left tackle, and Sutherland left guard with an outfit that included Bob Beck, all-America center, as well as Herron, Hastings, Dehart, McLaren and Carlson.

If Pitt doesn't make another trip to the Rose Bowl—and the odds now are against it—the Panthers may listen to overtures to participate in the inaugural "Sugar Bowl" inter-sectional game at New Orleans also on January 1. Pop Warner's Temple Eleven, one of the few remaining unbeaten aggregations, also looms as a candidate to represent the North. Louisiana State looks like the logical choice to carry the Southern banner, although the sponsors likely will also consider Rice Institute, powerhouse of the Southwest. Rice and L. S. U. played a tie game.

Outstanding passing combinations in this year's aerial circus include Stanford's Grayson and Moscrip, Rice's Wallace and McCauley, Alabama's Howell and Hinton, Colgate's Kern and Bogdanski (with variations), and Yale's Roscoe and Kelley.—The Alabama pair completed six passes for gains of 103 yards against Georgia

Tech Saturday—Notre Dame's chief scout, Tom Conley, journeyed all the way from South Bend to West Point Saturday, hoping for a last minute size-up of Buckler, Stancook & Co. in action, but all he saw were the Cadet reserves. . . . This week's renewal of the rivalry between the Irish and the Soldiers, at the Yankee stadium, may not be a sellout but will draw close to 70,000. . . . Yale's thrilling upset of Princeton marked the tenth time in around 60 years that the Elis toppled the Tigers from the unbeaten ranks.

Pope's Chief Aide Succumbs in Rome

Cardinal Gasparri, 82, Noted Catholic Leader, Pneumonia Victim

ROME, Italy.—(AP)—Pietro Cardinal Gasparri, 82, wartime secretary of state for the Vatican and a powerful influence in the cause of universal peace, died of pneumonia Sunday night.

Stricken last week with influenza which crept into his lungs, the aged cardinal sank steadily during the day, and his heart gave out. At 5 p. m. Archbishop Ottaviani, under-secretary of state, had imparted the special blessing of Pope Pius. Extreme unction was administered Saturday.

To bolster a steadily weakening heart, oxygen was administered by the cardinal's physicians. Cardinal Gasparri had been secretary of state under three popes and was regarded as the most noted prelate in the Catholic church after Pope Pius himself. Cardinals and high church dignitaries had flocked to the home of the aged cardinal by the score during the last days of his life to pay him tribute.

Gasparri in 1932 was nominated by the pope to head the church after his death. He was regarded as one of the most able diplomats that ever occupied the secretary of state's post as well as one of the church's outstanding authorities on Canon law. He was a strong opponent of Fascism.

$100,000 Is Asked for Kidnaped Man

William Weiss Reported Held by Philadelphia Underworld

PHILADELPHIA.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Record in a copyrighted article Monday night says that William Weiss, known in night life circles of the city, has been kidnaped by "underworld characters" for $100,000 ransom.

The kidnaping occurred, the newspaper says, on October 26, but was kept secret when the Department of Justice was asked to aid. George Harvey, head of the Bureau of Investigation in Philadelphia declined to discuss the matter.

Weiss was kidnaped outside his home in the Overbrook section of the city, the Record says. Members of his family heard a "hoarse despairing cry" from him and looked out in time to see an automobile speeding away, the paper says.

Ransom notes threatening "horrible death" to Weiss were received by the family which made frantic attempts to raise the money, the Record adds. "Whether the ransom has been paid remains a secret," the paper asserts.

Weiss was kidnaped after a change in underworld plans to seize Max (Boo Hoo) Hoff, fight promoter, the paper says, adding that Hoff could not be found and Weiss was taken. Relatives of Weiss could not be reached for comment.

Only those with a vocabulary of 10,000 words can understand world news today, says a Columbia professor. But only a few choice expressions are necessary to comment on it.

Grandmother used to brag about her new machine in the old days, just as daughter does today. Only, it was a sewing machine then.

New York's prisoners are getting five days off a month for good behavior. Which, besides their Sundays, gives them a better break than labor with its five-day week.

The railroads like that idea of speedier trains, if only to beat more autos to crossings, rather than score so many ties.

A man in Los Angeles has built a large peck-marked relief model of the moon, mainly to prove to young couples what an illusion love is.

Stars Wed Before 'Packed House'

Hollywood turned out en masse for its biggest wedding of the season, when red-haired "Ginger" Rogers, radiant in green, became the bride of Lew Ayres. The newlyweds, two of the screen's brightest stars, are shown here immediately after the ceremony in the Little Church of the Flowers.

Registration to Be Continued to Jan. 1

15,000 to 20,000 Arkansas Families Have Registered Babies

LITTLE ROCK.—FERA officials, realizing the importance of the work, have continued the first Arkansas "Register Your Baby" campaign, until the first of the year.

Between 15,000 and 20,000 families in Arkansas have complied with the request of the Federal Bureau of the Census, and have mailed in cards giving information relative to babies born during the past year. Dr. W. B. Grayson, State Health Officer and director of the campaign, states that these cards represent about 50 per cent of the annual baby registration and is to be considered a fair sample of the registration work done in the state.

Compilation of the information sent in on these cards and the registration of babies whose names are not found on the vital statistics records, will occupy the time of the clerical and field force for several weeks. The work of bringing public records to date has been included in the budget of the ERA in many states and is considered as highly constructive and a decided asset to public health work.

Continuance of the work in Arkansas is hoped to make the state's baby records second to none. The "Register Your Baby" campaign has been endorsed by the American Legion, the medical profession, parent-teacher organizations and civic and social groups in all localities.

There is still time for parents who have not sent in the Bureau of the

Hinton

Mr. and Mrs. Ossie Huett is visiting his brother, Hampton Huett and family.

The quilting at Mrs. William Rogers for Mrs. Lester Cox last Thursday was well attended and all had a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Tugues and little son, James Ray, were visiting relatives in this community last week. Mrs. E. L. Cox and family were dinner guests of Mrs. Allie Owens Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Black and Misses Nabel Claude Morgan, and Billy Francis Lewis called on Mrs. Allie Owens Sunday afternoon.

J. T. Smith and family and Mrs. Roy Ellledge visited relatives at Ebenezer Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Smith, Mrs. J. T. Smith, J. D. Smith, Nathan and Roy Ellledge, Horace Ellledge were callers at T. R. Gibson's Sunday.

Nathan Ellledge spent Saturday night with Sam, Jim and Arthur Owens. Mrs. Timmie Wilson spent Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Birdie Lewis.

Mrs. Ward of Patmos attended the quilting at Mrs. Rogers last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Smith spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. D. M. House.

Mrs. Verdie Jones and daughter Margaret, were shopping in Hope Saturday afternoon.

T. Z. Gibson, Tommy Gibson and Roy Ellledge were business visitors in Hope Saturday.

Inconsistency

By Helen Welshimer

ONCE I wrote a song of love, And all the folks proclaimed, She loves a man whose love for her Apparently is unaimed!

I LAUGHED in rhythm with the rhyme, For as I wrote I knew, As sure as grass turns green in spring, The lad I loved was true!

TODAY I made a merry poem Of gay love guaranteed To last till gipsies wash their necks And moonlight goes to seed,

AND my adored was off somewhere, Hong Kong, Peking, Madrid— But once he loved me very much, At least he said he did!

KC BAKING POWDER

Manufactured by baking powder specialists who make nothing but baking powder—under supervision of expert chemists.

ALWAYS Uniform Dependable

Same price today as 44 years ago 25 ounces for 25c

FULL PACK NO SLACK FILLING

MILLIONS OF POUNDS HAVE BEEN USED BY OUR GOVERNMENT

TIRED, NERVOUS, RUN-DOWN? fight "colds" the vitamin way

Your health power shrinks in winter. You stay indoors more—get less exercise, less fresh air. The sunshine is sickly. As a result, you catch "colds" easily, you can't sleep, you feel off your feed. Science tells us that "colds" are often the result of lack of vitamins A and D. A is your body's first line of defense against infection. D—the "sunshine" vitamin—builds body, bones and teeth.

Thanks to modern discoveries, you can obtain these two valuable vitamins throughout the winter. McKesson's has separated them from cod liver oil, and concentrated them in delicious chocolate-coated tablets.

McKesson's VITAMIN CONCENTRATE TABLETS OF COD LIVER OIL help you stop "colds" before they start, and give new vitality. Each tablet brings you all the vitamins in one teaspoonful of U. S. P. X. (revised 1934) Cod Liver Oil.

Take them yourself, and give them to your children. They contain calcium and phosphorus to help youngsters build sturdy bones and sound, even teeth. These tablets are a food, not a medicine. Get them at your druggist's. A dollar bottle brings you 100 tablets. Children love their tempting taste. Protect your family from the danger of becoming "run-down" with McKesson's VITAMIN CONCENTRATE TABLETS.

Negro Confesses to Child Murder

One of Virginia Prisoners Admits Slaying of Two Girls

RICHMOND, Va.—(AP)—Philip Jones, negro, was lodged in jail here Tuesday after officers said he had made a full oral confession to the murder of two young Clifton Forge girls, Alice and Ellen Hill.

In his purported confession Jones absolved from guilt three other negroes taken into custody with him.

Mystery Solved CLIFTON FORGE, Va.—(AP)—Their skulls battered in by a brutal slayer after the older child had been ravished, the bodies of Alice B. Hill, 13, and her sister, Ellen 9, were found early Monday, side by side in a rain-washed gutter.

Officers at once arrested Philip Jones, 23, negro, near whose home the bodies were found, his wife, and Chester Smith and John Pryor, both negroes, also were arrested.

Rushed to Roanoke, 65 miles away, to avoid possibility of violence, Jones was reported later as having made a full confession to the double slaying. The four prisoners then were hurried out of Roanoke with two automobile loads of armed officers to an unannounced destination.

Clifton Forge officers, who questioned the prisoners, announced first that Jones had confessed to slaying one of the girls but accused Smith, who denied it, of killing the other.

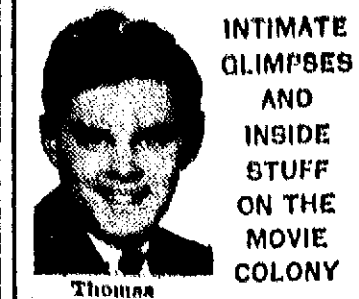

The Hill children, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hill, of Clifton Forge, became objects of an organized search after they failed to return to their home Sunday night. Sunday afternoon they had gone to the Jones home in response to a telephoned request from the negro that they tell his wife he would not be home until late.

The bodies were found together early Monday, both with their heads crushed in. The older girl's hands were tied with fodder twine and her body was covered with bruises.

Under the Jones home, a hundred yards away, searchers found a shotgun with its stock broken and blood-stained. Jones, when arrested, was suffering from a gunshot wound in one leg below the knee which he said was accidentally inflicted.

The girls were members of a family of 17 children, 12 of whom are living.

HOLLYWOOD GOSSIP

BY DAN THOMAS

Famous Star Writes Movie Column While He Enjoys Thomas on Vacation

By ROBERT MONTGOMERY Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc. Dean Dan: Ordinarily, I would shy at writing a column for anybody, but I have seen you work so hard over a period of the last year and a half that I couldn't conscientiously object to helping you out so you could get a vacation. Only one thing worries me. That is the fear that you won't be able to help me out if I need it.

On second thought, it might not be a bad idea for me, the next time I find myself in a position to leave Hollywood, to ring you up and get you out here and make some kind of an arrangement with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for you to play in, at least, one or two pictures in place of me. We'll see.

Like so many people who are compelled by force of circumstances to stay in one place for a great length of time, and who have itching feet, I have developed a happy faculty of being able to go almost anywhere by just sitting in my dressing room in leisure moments, closing my eyes and dozing off.

With Dan in Dreams So, on the day that you and Mrs. Thomas left, you had company. I was with you in that last minute rush at your house, and through all the confusion of the departure of the boat for New York.

I was there when you first went into your cabin and discovered the usual outrageous quantity of flowers and fruit from well-wishing but misguided friends, and I accompanied you as you went to the purser's office to change your accommodations.

I stood by sympathetically while you both had that nasty feeling from what sailors laughingly call the ground swell, along the west coast.

And it wasn't until you went to bed on your first night out and I heard you sigh with relief at not having to be at this column in the morning, that I realized my own responsibility and rushed madly back to Hollywood.

Booni! and Here's Column Ah, that's my call to the "Forsaking All Others" set. . . . forgive me, I'll be back at noon. 12:30: can't do much about this column now, Dan. . . there's 30 minutes to eat and be inter-

Because I am down for the moment, some people are trying to buy my talents for paltry sums. It can't be done. I'm still the Paul Poiret of old.—Paul Poiret, famous designer.

It is not necessary for any of us to live, but it is necessary for Germany to live.—Adolf Hitler.

Peace will not come to the world by warships, but by friendships.—Mrs. Ella Boole, president of the International W. C. T. U.

Of course, I'm going to keep it (the Nobel prize in literature), and continue writing. There are poor authors, too.—Luigi Pirandello.

The radio has lured many gullible persons into a disastrous laxative habit.—Dr. Frederick J. Kallayor.

Census card to obtain one from the ERA social worker in their locality, from the local registrar or direct from the Bureau of Vital Statistics of the State Board of Health and drip it into the mail. This will assure their baby's own registration, and give him a birth certificate that he may need vitally later in life.

Rubber Company for Job Insurance

Litchfield, of Goodyear, Favors Employer-Employee Plan

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Monday advocated unemployment insurance to be borne by the employer and employee and suggested that a commission be appointed immediately to "study our own needs and peculiarities and then proceed to inaugurate a plan."

Speaking before a Southeastern divisional meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Litchfield said he thought workers should be required to carry health and accident insurance and said that society as a duty should establish old age pensions.

"Our first step," he said in referring to unemployment insurance, "should be to appoint the best talent in the country on a commission whose job it would be to make a thorough examination of all systems now in use, to study our needs and peculiarities and then proceed to inaugurate a plan."

viewed. . . . 30 minutes for makeup. . . . maybe at three o'clock, when we move to a new set. . . . no, that's reserved for a wardrobe fitting. . . . that all wardrobe fittings. . . . what a fast worker this Van Dyke is. . . . boom, boom, boom and the picture's finished, almost before you knew it started. . . . if it's as good as "The Thin Man," well all be happy. . . . that's my ideal of a motion picture. . . . you can see happiness written all over it. . . . you know the players had a good time making it, and that alone makes you feel good. . . . well, well, good and bad, that's the movies, like everything else.

By the way, Dan, have you ever stopped to analyze Charlie Butterworth's comedy? . . . I don't know what it is, but he can keep me howling longer than anyone I know. . . . without a word, sometimes without a gesture. . . . he can put more words into a flick of his eyes, more timing into a wink. . . . I think that's what they mean by artistry, Dan.

Where's that food I sent for? . . . and to think that you're looting in a deck chair about now. . . . stuffy. . . . ah, the soup. . . . well, here's to you, Dan. . . . to you and deck chairs. . . . and a swell trip!

666 COLDS and FEVER

Liquid-Tablets Headaches Salve-Nose Drops in 30 minutes

COMMON OLD ITCH Is Still With Us Prescription No. 200,000 will cure it. It kills the parasites in the skin.

50c

4 Big Days—Nov. 14-17 JOHN S. GIBSON Drug Company "The REXALL Store"

Hope, Ark. Established 1885

Battlefield

Rev. Crain filled his regular appointment here Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Collins from Spring Hill spent last Wednesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Tarpley. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Crain from Even Shade attended church here Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hunt from near Danville, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Springs Jr., recently.

This Is The ENJOYABLE LAXATIVE

Fenn-a-mint, the delicious mint-chewing gum laxative, gives you no harsh, upsetting action, no strain, no after-effect discomfort. It tastes just like your favorite gum. The pleasant, easy action of Fenn-a-mint is due to the fact that you CHEW it. Saliva juice mix with it like they do with your food. So it goes into the system gradually. Thus no laxative mass hits your system suddenly to upset its delicate balance. Fenn-a-mint is ideal for children, but thoroughly positive for adults. Doctor prescribes the laxative if Fenn-a-mint. It is for pleasant, effective relief without upset to diet or appetite. Delay is dangerous. Today, get back on schedule and stay there with delicious Fenn-a-mint. A druggist, 15c and 25c.

MONT'S SUGAR CURE

Our Sugar Cure is a formula that cures meat quickly; costs no more than the old salt method and is much less trouble. Making all cuts tasty and delicious. The fine flavor with attractive, brown cured color makes a more ready sale for these meats. Catches for market.

Owing to the increased demand, we have installed an electric mixer this year. Printed directions furnished free with each purchase.

MONT'S SEED STORE 119 E. 2nd St. Hope, Ark.

Stop Chills and Fever

Rid Your System of Malaria

Shivering with chills one moment and burning with fever the next—that's one of the effects of Malaria. Unless checked, the disease will do serious harm to your health. Malaria, a blood infection, calls for two things: First, destroying the infection in the blood. Second, building up the blood to overcome the effects of the disease and to fortify against further attack. Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic supplies both these effects. It contains tasteless quinine, which kills the infection in the blood, and iron, which enriches and builds up the blood. Chills and fever soon stop and you are restored to health and comfort. For half a century, Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic has been sure relief for Malaria. It is just as useful, too, as a general tonic for old and young. Pleasant to take and absolutely harmless. Safe to give children. Get a bottle at any drug store. Now two sizes—30c and $1. The $1 size contains 2 times as much as the 30c size and gives you 25% more for your money.

Hope's Great Fall Event
TURKEY DAYS ARE COMING
See Thursday's Hope Star